Texas, Missouri And Kansas Report Deaths And Damage From Storms

NEARLY 50 DEAD ALREADY REPORTED

Texas And Kansas Are Hardest Hit—Details As Yet Meager

(International News Service)
DALLAS, Tex., May 9.—A tornado which swept the eastern side of Dallas and Collin counties and across the corner of Rockwall county today caused a probable loss of 20 lives and wrecked several villages throughout which it passed. Half of the town of Garland is in ruins and Dallas hospitals are receiving scores of injured.

McKinney reports the town of Nevada, 20 miles to the east, in the southeastern part of Collin county, has been practically wiped out.

First reports indicated a large death list in Nevada.

Among the reported dead are:

C. R. McLeod; died at St. Paul sanitarium here.

Mrs. C. R. McLeod; died in ambulance en route to hospital.

Monroe Todd (unconfirmed).

Kansas Is Hit

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 9.—Sixteen are dead and 75 injured today as a result of two tornadoes, one in Kansas and the other in Missouri, which struck near Hutchinson, Kan., and Eldon, Mo.

Eleven were killed near Hutchinson and damage throughout Kingman, Barner, Reno and McPherson counties is expected to reach $200,000.

Eight hundred homes were damaged in that section.

Five Are Killed

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 9.—Five persons are dead, several injured and property damage will run high in a storm which swept this vicinity today.

Olean, a town located seven miles north of Eldon, was reported to have been hard hit.

The counties of Miller, Cole, Callaway and Audrian were struck by the storm.

Severe Storm

ST. LOUIS, May 9.—One was killed, another seriously injured and heavy property damage was caused by a severe wind and rain storm which struck this city today.

Large plate glass windows in downtown stores were broken and trees uprooted throughout the city.

Tornado Sweeps Through Indiana

(International News Service)
HUNTINGTON, Ind., May 9. — A tornado swept through North Judson, Lomax and Wilder today, according to information reaching J. G. June, superintendent of the Marion division of the Erie Railroad here.

June said reports indicated there had been some loss of life, that houses were unroofed, freight cars blown over and wire communications crippled.

Father Brennan Is Transferred

Assistant At St. Mary's Is Given New Charge At Pittsburgh

FR. DUDLEY NEE HIS SUCCESSOR

At the morning services of St. Mary's church, held Sunday, May 8, the announcement was made by Fr. Martin J. Brennan, that under the orders of the Bishop of this Diocese, he had been transferred from the assistant pastorate of St. Mary's church to that of St. Canice, Knoxville, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The announcement was received by the parish of St. Mary's with genuine regret, for while it marks a promotion for Fr. Brennan, it also means the removal from the City of New Castle a priest who has endeared himself in the affections of those whom he served. The transfer is effective immediately and Fr. Brennan will leave Thursday, May 12 for his new charge.

New Castle has had few clergymen who have been so universally liked as Fr. Brennan. All have been proud to know him as a friend, have enjoyed his sunny disposition and have felt free to counsel with him.

In his work in this city he has gone far beyond the boundaries of his own faith. Always he has been ready and willing to assist in any worthy cause, no matter the origin of it. His capacity for hard work, his mastery of detail and his originality in perceiving ways out of difficulties made him a valuable man to this community and he has been utilized again and again.

Came Here in 1912.

Final Pleas In Snyder Murder Trial Being Made

Gray's Counsel Starts Summing Up Pleas For Defendant

ASSAILS MRS. SNYDER DURING HIS PLEA

Courtroom Is Packed As Last Scenes In Case Are Presented

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURTHOUSE, LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., May 9.—A dramatic plea on behalf of Henry Judd Gray, on trial with Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, his former mistress, for the murder of the woman's husband, Albert Snyder, was made in an address to the jury today by William J. Millard, attorney for Gray.

It had been expected that Dana Wallace, Mrs. Snyder's attorney, would make the opening summation but when court opened at 10:05 Edward Hazleton, counsel for Mrs. Snyder, made a motion that "the defendant Gray" be ordered to present his case to the jury first and Justice Townsend Scudder granted the motion.

Starts Plea to Jury.

Hazelton also renewed all previous motions that he had made. They were again denied. One of the motions was that a mistrial be declared. The courtroom was packed to capacity. Most of the spectators were women who stood six deep around the walls. Many of them seized and held the seats assigned to the press.

Millard, a tall, gray-haired orator of the old style, then launched into his address to the jury.

"Gentlemen," he said in a quiet voice, "I came to you to speak for my friend, Judd Gray.

"I will speak to you from the depths of my soul.

"I am going to conscientiously

New Locomotive Is On Exhibition

New Type B. & O. Engine On Display At Seventh Ward Station Today

Locomotive "President Washington," one of the large locomotives recently built for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, is on exhibition at the Mahoningtown B. & O. passenger station all day today, where many are viewing this wonderful engine.

The "President Washington" is one of twenty purchased from the Baldwin Company, each one of them bearing the name of a president of the United States down to and including President Arthur. These engines are painted olive green with gold and maroon stripes to harmonize with the standard train color. The name is painted in three inch gold letters on each side of the cab.

Steps and platforms for easy entrance into the cab are provided so that those who desire may pass throught the cab. The "President Washington" has recently been on exhibition at Baltimore, Washington, Cumberland, Connellsville and Pittsburgh while the second locomotive of the type, the "President Adams" was exhibited at Philadelphia. Thousands of persons passed through the engine cab while hundreds of others viewed this magnificent engine from the outside. Thus it has been decided to give the people of New Castle an opportunity of examining this wonderful piece of machinery.

The engine will remain at the Seventh ward station until 11 o'clock tonight. It will be lighted up, that it can be seen in all of its many features. All citizens will gladly be welcomed at the inspection.

These engines will be used for passenger service between Washington and New York. Their capacity is such as to insure easy getaway and quicker acceleration from stations, smooth handling of heavy trains over grades at scheduled speed and giving a steady and comfortable movement throughout.

Expect 100,000 More Refugees During Week

State Relief Dictator Estimates Huge Army To Be Added To Refugees

FEAR NEW BREAK IN SOUTHERN LEVEES

West Central Louisiana Is Now Threatened With Big Inundation

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 9.—Churning the wreckage of four weeks disaster in a muddy inland sea, the Mississippi flood swished ominous forebodings of a new disaster today over the levee tops of the Bayou Des Glasies, protecting wall shielding West Central Louisiana from inundation.

Seven parishes south of the Red River and west of the Mississippi, with a total population of more than 200,000, lie beyond the water soaked levees along the southern boundary of Avoyelles.

Break Inevitable

A break in the Bayou region is regarded as inevitable by state and Federal engineers. Hundreds of rescue boats have been concentrated by relief directors around the confluence of the Red and Black rivers. Heroic armies of levee defenders have been swept from the battle ground along the thirty five mile flood front. From five to eight feet of water is sweeping down from the Mississippi crevasses north of Natchez. As the Mississippi overflow crushes into the Bayou bulwarks from the east, the Arkansas backwaters converge from the north to build up the finale of the nation's most devastated flood.

Former Governor John M. Parker, state relief dictator, estimates that 100,000 persons will be added this week to the population of Louisiana's refugee camps.

Thousands of acres of the country's most productive sugar territory, vast areas of hardwood lumber lands and miles of fertile cotton fields are threatened by the rising water.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, special relief emissary of President Coolidge, will remain in Louisiana until the great valley flood is unleashed in its last rush to the sea.

Consolidation Of Schools Is Made In Two Districts

Enon Valley And Part Of Little Beaver Township Form Joint District

At a meeting of school directors of Enon and Little Beaver township Saturday evening it was decided to form a joint school district of Enon and a part of Little Beaver township. There are four schools in Little Beaver, but only two of them, the Little Beaver and Centre Valley will consolidate. Owing to the condition of the roads over which pupils would have to be transported, it was thought inadvisable to include, Sugar Valley and Coal Ridge in the consolidation.

An old church building in Little Beaver in which school has been held for some time will be re-modeled for a high school, while the grades will be taken care of at the Enon School building. The action Saturday night followed a joint meeting of Enon and Little Beaver township citizens earlier in the week, at which sentiment seemed to favor the consolidation.

Expansion Movement Teams Start Campaign

First Meeting Is Held At Noon—Reports To Start Tuesday

Workers Enthuse Over Prospects For Success Of Campaign

With team captains and workers rarin' to go, New Castle's Expansion Movement moved out today at noon when the first luncheon meeting was held in the First Christian church. Some few of the workers were unable to be present but their captains promised to have them there dead or alive on Tuesday.

The goal of the Expansion Movement is 1000 additional members for the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, and a fund for the advertisement of the city. With the goal beckoning them on, the teams will be out in the harness until Friday straining every effort to land the campaign on the topmost pinnacle of success.

James K. Love in Charge

James K. Love, vice chairman of the Expansion Movement was in charge today and made a "lovely" little address, urging the teams to their best efforts. Thomas W. Dickey, also a vice president also spoke in a similar vein.

Herbert Peairs, campaign manager then outlined the method of procedure, and asked if any of the teams had questions to ask. The usual line of criticisms from crepe hangers were brought in, and as usual got a laugh. Of all the criticisms reported, not one had any foundation in fact, and the silly rumors were promptly buried. No flowers.

The president of the Chamber of Commerce, Fred L. Rentz, was called upon and in a short talk gave the workers some reasons why they should put this drive over. "This is our town, we owe it something, and we should pay our obligations" he said.

At noon Tuesday, the next report meeting will be held and the score of the teams given.

Nothing Definite On State Printing Program At Present

Workers Search Ruins Of State Printery To Salvage Valuable Equipment

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., May 9. — Nothing definite will be done to carry on the State's printing program until new quarters are found for the division of public documents, Gov. John S. Fisher said today. Records and equipment of that division were destroyed in the fire which swept the privately owned State Printery, Saturday night.

Employes of the Department of Property and Supplies today are searching the ruins of the fire to determine how much of the State's equipment can be salvaged.

Police Seeking For Canvasser In East Side District

Report was made to the police department this morning that some one was canvassing the East Side district in the vicinity of Ray street asking for clothes for the Mississippi valley flood sufferers in behalf of the Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army officers reported that they had no canvassers out anywhere in this work and asked the police to capture the solicitor as he was not representing the army.

Police are on the lookout but have not apprehended the canvasser at yet.

Red Cross Fund Nears $10,000,000

Total Sought For Flood Relief May Be Increased To $15,000,000

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 9.—Steadily mounting toward the ten million dollar goal, the Red Cross relief fund amounted to $9,225,016 today.

A new appeal probably will go out tomorrow to increase the fund to $15,000, as recent surveys have convinced officials that ten million dollars will not take care of the enormous task of relieving distress in the lower Mississippi valley.

Will Confer On Plan To Replace State Printery

Governor Calls Conference To Determine Upon Steps To Be Taken

TWO FIREMEN ARE KILLED IN BLAZE

Loss Will Be More Than Million Dollars; Many Documents Lost

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG Pa., May 9—State officials will hold a conference today to determine the immediate procedure in supplying the state's printing needs, following the destruction of the state printery here by fire Saturday night. Gov. John S. Fisher, J. C. Dight, state director of publicationh; B. E. Taylor, secretary of property and supplies, and Samuel Rambo, director of grounds and buildings, will attend the conference.

The state printery supplies and books, valued at $500,000 were lost in the fire which destroyed the printery owned by John L. L. Kuhn, for many years contract printer to the state and several adjoining buildings. The total loss has been estimated at more than a million dollars.

Two Firemen Killed.

Two firemen lost their lives and seven others were injured while fighting the flames, three of them seriously.

The dead are Bernard Earl Goodyear and Wilbur H. Sadler, volunteer firemen. Both of them were victims of asphyxiation and their bodies were not found for many hours after they were missed from their companies. Their bodies were found on the third floor of the smouldering building yesterday.

According to city fire officials the flames originated in a garage and quickly spread to the state printery and adjoining buildings.

De Pinedo Forced To Land Due To Foggy Condition

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—Commander De Pinedo, intrepid Italian flyer, who was due to have arrived at the Philadelphia navy yard today, was forced down at South Norwalk, Conn., by fog, according to word received by the commandant of the navy yard.

Pinedo took off from Boston early today, despite poor flying conditions and bad visibility. As he approached New York a fog which had been hovering over the sound rolled inland and forced him down, according to the message.

It is believed he will not take off until the fog lifts.

Wireless Message Says White Bird Seen Off Coast

Should Reach New York This Afternoon If Reports Are Correct

LEFT PARIS EARLY SUNDAY MORNING

Several Messages Indicate Flyers Still Coming Toward U. S.

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
BOSTON, May 9.—Captains Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli and their Paris-to-New York biplane were "lost in the silence of the rain-swept Atlantic this afternoon.

Search of the seaboard, from Newport, R. I., to halifax, N. S., by radio, wireless and shore lookouts failed to reveal the whereabout of the Trans-Atlantic "White Bird"

Steamships in the various lanes were queried but all replied that visibility was little more than a mile and that the Nungesser-Coli plane had not been seen. One ocean greyhound queried seven ships in her vicinity but all reported "No sign of plane."

A plane reported sighted this morning first over Newfoundland from the land and then off Nova Scotia by the coastguard cutter Modoc was believed to be the "White Bird," but identification was not certain. Ships reported a snow storm blowing off Cape Race.

(International News Service)
BOSTON, May 9.—The coast guard cutter Modoc has sighted an airship believed to be the "White Bird", according to a wireless message picked up at a government station near here this forenoon. The plane, believed by coast guardsmen to be that occupied by Nungesser and Coli, was off the Nova Scotia coast heading for the Maine seaboard, the message said.

NEW YORK, May 9—The French Steamship Line here received word from the Independent Wireless Company at 10:35 a. m. today that the "White Bird", the plane in which Captains Nungesser and Coli are attempting a non-stop flight from Paris to New York, had been sighted over St. Pierre, Miquelon, a small island off the coast of Newfoundland. St. Pierre is approximately 950 miles from New York.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 9—The trans-Atlantic "White Bird", on a non-stop Paris to New York flight with Captains Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli, was sighted this morning, according to a radiogram routed from St. Pierre, Miquelon.

Jury Chosen To Try Five Accused In Bank Defraud

Five Alleged Defrauders In Brotherhood Bank At Pittsburgh Go On Trial

EIGHT MEN AND FOUR WOMEN JURORS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 9.—A jury of eight men and four women was chosen to try the five men accused of conspiring to defraud the Brotherhood Savings and Trust Co., here of $102,000 in the alleged $320,000 bond swindle, a few minutes after the case opened in criminal court before Judge D. W. Henderson here today.

Other cases against the defendants will be tried later, Assistant District Attorney H. R. Phillips, in charge of the prosecution, stated.

The three former bank officers are charged with embezzling $102,000 from the institution and the remainder are charged with larceny for the same amount.

The former president of the closed bank also was accused of a larceny of $10,000 which, it is alleged, was placed in a "bargain bond" pool by Harry Braun.

Edward A. Goodfellow, who is facing sentence for receiving stolen goods, to which charges he pleaded "no defense" after detectives had recovered nearly all of the $320,000 in the deal in Goodfellow's yard, was also indicted for being an accessory to larceny.

Sentence was suspended on Goodfellow until the later part of this month because of his physical condition.

Officials of the State Banking department were in court today to assist Phillips in the prosecution. Major Robert M. Ewing, appeared as special for the banking department. Counsel for the defandants include Rody Marshall, Homer Young, and Charles D. Prichard.

army engineers, will leave tonight for St. Louis, where they will confer with Colonel Charles L. Potter, president of the Mississippi River commission, on a comprehensive plan of flood control throughout the stricken valley.

Secretary Hoover discussed with financial and industrial leaders of New Orleans today preliminary plans for the creation of rehabilitation machinery in Louisiana for the reestablishment of thousands of destitute farmers upon their barren lands when the waters subside.

"There should be no loss of life in Louisiana", Secretary Hoover said after an inspection of the flood relief machine now functioning under Parker. "It seems inevitable, however, that millions of dollars will be added to the staggering total of property loss throughout the state."

After inspecting the half mile artificial crevasse at Caernarvon, twelve miles below New Orleans, Secretary Hoover will leave tomorrow for Baton Rouge the center of the Louisiana relief activity. Several Accidents During Week-End

Man Is Injured By Latimer Car But Is Not Seriously Hurt

Several accidents occurred during the week-end in the city of New Castle, but fortunately no persons were seriously injured. One man, name not obtained by police, was struck by the car of Harvey Latimer, Ellwood City, at East Washington street and Butler avenue, receiving bruises and injury to his shoulder.

Other accidents reported to police follow:

Cars of E. F. Ross and Angelo Appesell collided at Water and South Mill streets. Both cars were damaged.

Cars of A. H. Loy, this city, and Ohio license 412-663 collided in East Washington street, with damage to the machines.

John Wiesnki reported that his car and that of Ohio 455-641 collided at Jefferson and Grant streets when the Ohio car turned into Grant street.

Another report said that Pennsylvania license 21,002 struck a car near the Cathedral and took off a wheel and broke the front axle.

they declared that the actual loss of supplies of paper, stamps, printing records and archives cannot be estimated. State printing will be tied up for months and state officials so far have not ventured a guess as to how the printing will be handled.

It will be several years before some of the books stored in the building can be replaced and many of them can never be replaced, it was said.

Included in the work destroyed was much of the legislative printing for the 1927 session of the legislature. The copy of nearly 400 new acts which were passed by the legislature and signed by the governor were in the plant for printing and binding into copies of the pamphlet laws. The legislative journal, the Senate and House final histories were also in the building. These were placed in the presses Saturday morning. Although copies of the official bills can be duplicated from the files of the secretary of the commonwealth where the original bills are kept, it will necessitate a long delay in obtaining certified copies.

Among the supplies destroyed were a large number of public school record books and printed forms, 20,000 copies of a book "Pennsylvania Trees" which had just come off the presses, the entire lot of the latest volume of the workmen's compensation decision, the latest edition of the labor industry bulletin and a supply of Smull's, the legislative hand book.

can destroyer and the plane was proceeding satisfactorily.

(An American destroyer has reported to the Navy Department that it has picked up a dispatch from an unnamed vessel stating that it had sighted Nungesser, according to the Navy Department.)

BOSTON, May 9.—Captain Nungesser's White Bird was not "off Boston" at 12:30 p. m., as reported from Paris.

MONTREAL, Quebec., May 9.—A dispatch from Sydney, Nova Scotia, states that Captain Nungesser's "White Bird" passed off Cape Race at 10 o'clock this morning.

Battling head-winds and snow squalls, Captain Nungesser and his one-eyed navigator, Captain Francois Coli, were believed at nine o'clock this morning, New York time, to be driving their huge aeroplane, "The White Bird", down the Atlantic coast on the last lap of thir daring flight from Paris to New York.

Paris and Washington have both received unofficial reports that "The White Bird" was sighted off Newfoundland early today. While these reports lack official confirmation, they are rather generally accepted.

"Charlot" and "Francois, the one-eyed devil", as the two daring French aviators are known in Paris, had been in the air approximately 33 hours at nine o'clock, New York time, today. Their schedule, if carried out exactly, would land them in New York harbor at noon, but reports indicate that they may not be expected here before three o'clock this afternoon.

The "White Bird" will be forced to make a water landing in New York, as it is understood to have dropped its landing gear.

If the Nungesser flight is successful it will be a remarkable one, not alone because of the distance covered, but from the fact that the plane probably has had to fight head-winds and squalls for more than half the journey.

PARIS, May 9.—It was reported here at noon today that Captain Charles Nungesser passed south of St. Johns, Newfoundland, at 10 a. m., Paris time (five a. m., New York time). According to news reaching here the visibility and weather conditions were improving. It was calculated by French air officials that, if the report of Nungesser's safe crossing were true, he should reach New York about three p. m. Nungesser, with Captain Francois Coli, is attempting a non-stop flight from Paris to New York.

Captain Nungesser and Captatin Coli took off from Le Bourget flying field at approximately 5:17 a. m. Sunday morning, Paris time. If he had been able to maintain his schedule of 100 miles an hour Nungesser would have been due to arrive in New York at noon today or thereabouts.

While there is great interest here in Nungesser's progress, as yet no fears are held because of the lack of officially confirmed reports as to his being sighted.

The one element that has caused some conjecture among aviation experts is the fact that head-winds are reported in the Atlantic, which may have reduced the speed of "The White Bird" from 100 miles an hour to 85 or 90 miles an hour. If the flight is held down to this speed there are some doubts whether the gasoline supply will be sufficient to carry Nungesser to New York.

Prior to departure Nungesser reduced his fuel supply from 4,000 litres to 3,800 litres, feeling that he could afford to lighten his load by this much because of following winds which should have made it possible for the plane to gain two hours flying time during the first 800 miles. This gain, however, may have been entirely offset by head-winds in the Atlantic, making it extremely doubtful whether Nungesser's supply can last to New York.

Snappy Saying

A garden reminds a man he has a back to ache.

The first ten amendments to the United States Constitution were added shortly after the adoption of the constitution in 1789. What is this group of amendments known as?

Dinner Stories Hard on Beggars!

Lady—I suppose in 'this lovely spring weather you feel much more cheerful?

Beggar—That's th' trouble, lidy—it do make it 'arder for me to look miserable.

Just Try It!

Motorist—That buggy of yours is out of date. If you owned a car you could throw yor foot against the accelerator and get a thrill, old scout.

Farmer—If you want a thrill, young man, climb into this buggy and throw your foot against this horses tail.

It was during the breach of promise suit that a certain lawyer had occasion to ask the plaintiff her age.

"It is absolutely essential that your correct age be entered" he assured her as she hesitated to reply.

At last the answer came faintly, "Well—er—53! But please write it as lightly as possible."

One's Sufficient:

A man lay in the road surrounded by what was originally an automobile. His face was cut and his clothes were torn. The auto was a total wreck.

A passing machine stopped and a man got out. Leaning over the prostrate man he asked, "Have an accident?"

Faintly the reply reached him. "No thanks. Just had one."

Police Leader In Pittsburgh Faces Warrant Arrest

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 9.—This city today waited with interest the swearing out of warrants for Peter P. Walsh, superintendent of police and other police officials, which William L. King, head of the Citizens' League, a reform group, announced would charge the officials with conspiring to defeat the ends of justice.

King's proposed action is understood to center around the arrest of three of his agents while they were gathering evidence for the Citizens' League.

A series of raids Saturday night by state troopers and federal prohibition agents resulted in many arrests on liquor charges.

State Supreme Court Convenes

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—The state supreme court convened here today and will remain in session until October. A number of decisions were handed down before applicants for admission to practice were heard and sworn in after which the hearing of arguments on appeals was begun.

Among other young attorneys admitted to practice in the supreme court today was Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Sproh, of Milford, Pike county, the only woman member of the bar of Pike county.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY TO BE CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Reed of this city will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, Thursday, May 19, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. George Vandergrift of Torrence, Cal., where they are visiting at the present time.

James W. Reed and Miss Gussie A. Platt were married in New Castle, May 19 1877 by Rev. Kirk, D. D., and have resided here since that time. Mrs. Reed was a daughter of William and Sarah Platt, pioneer residents of this city.

Mr. Reed was a puddler by trade and worker for many years in the old puddling mill, and was later janitor at the Lincoln and Garfield school for 14 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed are the parents of five children all of whom are living. Mrs. Harry Hartman, and Lawrence Reed of New Castle, Mrs. S. Jane Kissinger of Reading, Pa., Mrs. Fred W. Johnson and Mrs. George Vandergrift of Torrence, Cal. There are nine grandchildren and three great grand children.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Reed have hosts of friends here who will congratulate them at this time.

Birthday Party

Mrs. June Webster, Front street was pleasantly surprised when twenty friends gathered in honor of her birthday anniversary, Saturday evening. Informal social pastimes of music and games were enjoyed.

Refreshments were served later by the Misses Agnes Catherine, and June Webster.

ANNIVERSARY SURPRISE IS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Honoring the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walls of the Youngstown road, sixteen guests gathered surprise fashion in their home, Saturday evening. The hours were pleasantly spent with radio music and dancing. The honor guests were presented with lovely gifts.

Later delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. William Wilcox, and Mrs. Arthur Hulbert.

Honored at Dinner

Honoring Miss Edina Setter, Cyril Setter and David Lewis, the choir of the First Congregational church held a dinner on Friday evening in the church basement. Approximately 35 were present, the dinner being served by Mrs. D. W. Thomas, Mrs. James Davis, Mrs. Thomas Grey, Mrs. Sol Davis and Mrs. L. J. Davis.

Miss Setter has been the organist of the church for the past two years but is leaving New Castle for Cleveland, O., where her father Andrew Setter, a musician of ability has established a studio. Cyril Setter, a brother of Miss Setter is a violinist whose skill has pleased New Castle people for the past several years.

As a token of the esteem in which she is held, Miss Setter was presented with a handsome umbrella. In appreciation of his splendid work as chorister of the church, Mr. Lewis was presented with a pocketbook and a sum of money.

The removal of the Setter family from New Castle to Cleveland is a loss to the music lovers of this city and their leaving will be regretted.

THE SANGAMO (electrically wound) Clock marks a new era in timekeeping.

ELECTRICALLY WOUND
... see this new clock for yourself

AT last a clock you can trust for accuracy. Many Sangamo (electrically wound) Clocks are now running with less than one minute's variation per month. They are guaranteed accurate within 30 seconds a week.

The clock consists of a fine chronometer-type movement; with full-jewelled watch escapement. The mainspring is kept at constant tension by a small precision motor built in the movement. Operates on any alternating current; just plug into nearest light socket or convenience outlet. Ordinary current interruptions don't stop the clock.

Electricity as applied in the Sangamo Clock (electrically wound) will revolutionize time-keeping. Handsome models in bronze, mahogan walnut, now on show in our store.

NOT SO SIMPLE

VOCATIONAL guidance is one of the newer ramifications of public education. It has something to do with leading young ideas into compatible relations with industry, or words to that effect. Whatever it is has its advocates as so many things have nowadays, and quite in conformity with the spirit of the times those advocates are about to engage in a movement. There is an objective, of course, and the objective is making vocational guidance national.

Most ardent among the proponents of this latest turn in education are those who lament that they did not discover early in life the vocation they were best fitted for. Magnanimously, they would spare others this loss of valuable years. Their cause is dedicated to getting the younger generation off to an early start in its life work.

But is it as simple as all that? Is it easier for a parent or teacher to guide the boy or girl into the right vocation than for the child to find it for itself? Parents and teachers, by intelligent analysis of the child's qualifications, can determine the work it could perform most efficiently, but youth sometimes chooses as a life work that which it likes best, not what it can do best.

TO THE RECUE

ACROSS the raging streams and the newly made lakes in Northeastern Louisiana a grim race is under way to save at least 50,000 lives. Seaplanes from Pensacola, army airplanes from various posts and National Guard aircraft from Texas and Arkansas hurry here and there to find spots where refugees may have congregated.

Naval and Coast Guard boats from the Atlantic, the Great Lakes and the Gulf are plowing through currents and eddies to isolated towns and homes. Blunt-nosed river steamers, with their stern wheels and double funnels reminiscent of the Mississippi of Mark Twain's day, are pushing long barges loaded with human beings, household goods and livestock into Natchez and other ports. Surf boats manned by Coast Guardsmen venture into uncharted shallows.

Darkness and the obliteration of landmarks known to every river pilot by day and by night tell the rescuers where to go. Boats old and new, airplanes of any vintage and radio sets of army engineers and powerful commercial stations—all engaged in a spectacular and gigantic rescue effort. There has been nothing like it before in the Mississippi Valley or elsewhere. The nation hopes it will never again be necessary.

STROKING THE EGO

THAT more flies are caught with sugar than with vinegar is an old and tried principle. There are some persons so ferocious in their appearance and who rejoice in such voices of the basso profundo variety that they can shake their fists and shout "I want what I want when I want it" without fear of being refused. But they are the exceptions.

Most people, after all, are mild-mannered souls, and find it better policy to use persuasive methods. They cajole, rather than threaten, and achieve their purpose without the risk of taking a licking. They feel like committing murder, but they speak only guile.

In this cunning and effective procedure no weapon is more valuable than the intelligent use of titles. In spite of the leveling process of democracy many titles have survived, more than enough to grease the path over which society sildes in its everyday existence. The only problem is applying the title that best fits and is the most surely to please the person approached.

Of these titles the lowest are "boss" and "chief." They are effective with everyone from bootblack to one's immediate superior in factory or office. For the portly gentleman over 50 "colonel" or "governor" are most likely to brush the hair the right way. "Doctor" has numerous valuable applications. Very young or very old lawyers and the petty judiciary will always acknowledge a salutation as "judge." It is a safe practice to address every patrolman as "officer" and every police officer by the title appropriate to the rank above the one he actually holds.

It is easy for skinny people to be modest.

It takes all kinds of people to ruin a world.

Fortune never smiles on a man because he is a joke.

Distance will lend quite a bit of enchantment to winter.

Men who don't pay as they go have a hard time coming back.

A West Virginia student thrives on one and a half hour's sleep nightly. Other students have tried to get along on the same amount, but they didn't thrive.

In Day's News

The Earl of Coventry, who today enters upon his 90th year, is known as the "Father of the House of Lords," by reason of the fact that he is the oldest member of that august body. He is in a way closely connected with America as three of his sons married American women. One of his daughters, Lady Anne Coventry, became the wife of the dusky Indian Prince Dhuleep Singh. The Earl of Coventry, who is the ninth of his title, received his education at Eton and Oxford. When in his prime he was famous as a huntsman and during the lifetime of Queen Victoria he served as Master of the Buckhounds. The founder of the Coventry family was a Lord Mayor of London, and one of the executors of the will of Dick Whittington, who left him his celebrated cat for his trouble.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:04. Sun rises tomorrow 4:48.

Plowing is being done with a "Manless tractor" in a western state. Maybe some day farming will be a real pleasure instead of the hardest kind of work as it is now.

The suffering of those in the flooded district of the south is said to be very bad. Money will get the things these people so sorely need. If you can spare a little bit send it in and you will be doing your part for the helping of humanity in dire distress.

In some cities where men are known as never doing anything for anybody or anything and living for themselves alone and knocking the efforts of those who do try to help the other fellow, these bozos are referred to as "Cooties." We have some in New Castle, but let us keep the breed from getting any more numerous.

There's some good in everything. The hip flask crowded out the pistol.

Yesterday while we were sitting in our fur lined limosene on an East Side street waiting for the ninety-five per cent of this little family who was making a hurried call, three Italian gentlemen passed and after looking our boat over critically one blurted out: "Looka justa like da box cara!" Mr. Ford would not like to hear that we are sure.

We read of the building trades in some cities reducing the price of their labor in order to stimulate building. The times surely must be very hard in those places.

It is beginning to look as if President Coolidge and Gov. Smith of New York will be lined up against each other for the office of president of the United States next year. Both have their enthusiastic supporters and we heard some even get enough to swear when someone said Smith had no chance.

Another story is being added to the White House in Washington. It is being put right on top of the present structure, being that kind of a story. The thought must be that larger families are going to occupy that wonderful place.

Dr. M. S. McDowell, dean of extension work at State college, and a speaker at the recent corn borer meeting held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, in a letter to the Hints and Dints man said: "The meeting held in New Castle was the largest by all odds that has been held during the series." He also was well pleased with his reception in every way. This makes us feel particularly good as he was at our home during most of his stay here.

Modern business is gradually arriving to the point where "The Survival of the Fittest" will be a reality. Those who expect to stay in business from now on will have to move some. Don't let that get by you pard!

The man who never allows objectionable stuff to accumulate about his place does not have to have a special clean-up day of week. He is right all the time and his family is not menaced by disease or are his neighbors.

Mrs. Charley Chaplin will release the funny footed boy of all responsibility as far as she is concerned if he will hand her a million and a quarter dollars in real American money. This will make Charley put his iron lid on backwards a few times.

It is said by an authority that a witness in a court who is telling the truth can rarely be rattled by a lawyer. This is a good thing to remember when summoned to the witness stand.

You owe your city and the other fellow more than you can ever repay to them. A city does more for a man than a man can do for his city. Are you doing your part or anything toward making New Castle a better place to live in? Do your duty and your share before it is too late! You don't need a diagram to understand what is meant.

Nature never tells her secrets to stupid people.

It is coming time of year when the boys are procuring firearms and caps and having a cracking good time. But you have to expect tragedy, too, so the parents should be careful. A boy two years old at Ambridge was the victim in a shooting by boys aged seven recently.

From France comes the report that the entire nation is praying for a large crop of American tourists this year. They're the paying kind.

The co-eds of today have a larger understanding than their mothers at the same age. A foot specialist says their feet average a size and a half larger. Comparisons in other ways haven't been disclosed.

In May, 1928, there will be a hot old scramble for the United States Senate seats from this state. But this year the primary is in September and the candidates are just beginning to unlimber and get into action. Some of these days we will have an announcement and that will be the signal for a great many.

An Old Home Week Time in New York.

It is almost like an Old Home Week to go back to the Waldorf-Astoria in New York when the American Publishers' association is in session, for the same old displays of machinery, syndicate features, etc., are always there in the same old places, and pretty generally the same faces looking after them and showing up their strong points to callers.

Then I always meet many of my old friends there, including this year Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Rentz of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Mead and daughter of Erie, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Stevenson of Titusville and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Long of McKeesport, as well as others of the male persuasion from more distant points. Fred Rentz told me he was writing some letters to his newspaper while in the big city thus showing that he had more "pep" than I did while there. He carries his typewriter with him too which his wife told me I could go to their rooms and use if I cared to. Me use a typewriter? Gosh, if I could this column would have been written several days ago—From "Jim" Borland's column in Franklin News-Herald.

Who says that we are not living in a great democracy? Why every American girl has a chance to win a beauty contest and every boy a chance to become president.

In no cities where signal lights are used does the word "go" mean to "go like the devil". It means to proceed carefully and cautiously. But there are some who think they have to tear past at 35 miles an hour.

Some other fellow is banking your money if you spend all you earn. That is the truth and it ought to owe yourself a part of your wages, and there is no better way than by putting part of it in the bank. Start now.

Most anyone can get you "in bad"; but who is going to help you when you want to get out bad.

An Ungrateful World.

A bumblebee was on his back;
He could not get aright;
I took a nice, soft, easy weed
And helped him to alight.
I!

He then arose on steady feet
And shook his winglets free—
At once prepared a vicious sting,
And gave it to me.
Why?

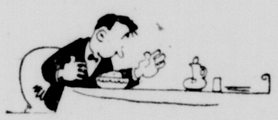

I find it so in daily life;
With troubles by the peck,
As soon as you help someone out,
You get it in the neck.
Try!

What is worse than to run into a nice hot argument without any particular chance to butt in? Arguments, like fist fights, should be free-for-alls. It is neither fair nor gentlemanly for some folks to hog all the fun.

Youth.

Have you heard the story of the dear old Quaker lady who was distinguished for her youthful appearance? Well one day she was asked what she did to preserve her charms. And she replied sweetly:

"I use for the lips, truth; for the voice, prayer; for the eyes, pity; for the hands, charity; for the figure uprightness and for the heart love."

An experienced boarder tells us shortcake got its name because of the shortness of berries.

There are some very ambitious drivers in this city. They drive $3,000 cars and they try to park in spaces vacated by Fords.

How does it come that none of the healthful diets contain anything palatable?

Our government guarantees to every man the right to the pursuit of happiness, but every man has to do his own running.

County Controller McGovern of Allegheny county is insisting that all expense vouchers sent to him be itemized and sworn to. That is a sensible and logical way to handle vouchers, but we can see where politicians won't like it. They don't like to itemize their expenses, and perhaps we wouldn't either.

The past few days we have noticed quite a few motorists making left turns at Mercer street, merely because there wasn't anyone there to stop them. A little attention to this corner will do some good in this respect.

Man is said to be the only reasoning animal, but man is the only animal that says it.

Why should the President call a special session of Congress to help the Mississippi flood sufferers? The Red Cross can raise the money more quickly than Congress ever could agree, and what's the use of having a flood and Congress at the same time? Take trouble one at a time—it will last longer.

We have just read of a French Canadian who was arrested and fined for beating his own child. Up there it seems that there is a limit on a man paddling his own Canuck.

In view of the opportunities now offered by Reno and Paris, it must be that the reason some women kill their husbands is because they dislike to travel.

The Clever British.
How Much Wealth in U. S.?
Madam Borodin Is Safe.

America's representative at Geneva accuses Great Britain of unfairness because the British control rubber prices. Keeping down the supply, they put up the cost. Americans buying automobile tires really pay the money that Britain sends to us.

That is a foolish complaint. If the British are better business men than we, knowing enough to grow rubber, and control rubber plantations, which we don't, they are entitled to their profits.

All we ask is that they pay what they owe, no matter where they get it.

What is the real wealth of this country? Noboby could guess within a thousand billions.

For instance, Editor Bonfils, through his Denver Post, announces discovery in Colorado of a bed of manganese, by far the richest in the world, six million tons of ore in sight.

How many more billions are hidden away in the mountains that stretch across and up and down this country, feebly tapped here and there by prospectors, but never really prospected?

When Madame Borodin, wife of Russia's representative in China is tried by the Chinese, an American lawyer will defend her, an American "capitalist" lawyer at that.

The Chinese threaten to execute Mrs. Borodin and Russia replies, "If you do, Russia will fight China." It would be a queer war, like two big feather beds fighting.

The American lawyer will read up on Confucius, mild and gentle, who said, centuries before our era, "Do not do to others what you would not want them to do to you." And the worst that will happen to Mrs. Borodin will be expulsion from China; the two nations won't fight.

Professor Erskine, who teaches English at Columbia, thinks it's an outrage to exclude from this country an indecent translation of "The Arabian Nights," and another indecent book called "The Decameron."

The professor says these are "classics." If so, they are classic indecencies, and tacking on the word "classic" doesn't make them acceptable.

Professor Erskine would not read from the "Decameron" or the unexpuragted "Arabian Nights" before a class of young men and women. That fact justifies the action of the custom house. Does this country need the?

Dr. Miethe, great German scientist, is dead. He thought he had changed mercury into gold and the world was excited three years ago. It was suggested here at the time, that because of mercury's extraordinary affinity for gold there was probably some gold in the precious mercury when Miethe started work. That suggestion has since been justified.

It is like taking an old miser and finding gold in his clothing.

FRIENDSHIP

Wealth has a lavish way,
Fame is of the crowd.
Sympathy must have a day.
When the head is bowed.

Pride has many thing to boast,
Skill and power and place,
Fancying these things uppermost,
Which is not the case.

Friendship asks no special hour
Sorrowful or gay.
Into beauty it will flower
Every passing day.

Wealth and fame and pride depart;
All that ever lives
In the memory and the heart
Is what friendship gives.

IMMIGRATION

The need of the United States is for more workers, more than power.

There is a disposition, however, originating among the workers' unions of the United States and manifested in congress to limit the number of immigrants.

This, however, does not mean that there is no more immigration, no more workers coming into this country. There is immigration, but it is from the powers of the air. Those who come to us from another country supply hand power, but they take jobs from our workers. Labor power, however, that comes to us from the forces of nature increases our ability to work without at the same time competing with us in consumption.

During the last 100 years or so immigration from the powers of nature into the realm of mankind has been considerable. How many thousands of hands or workers and how many thousands of feet and muscles of horses and oxen have been displaced by steam and electricity?

Huge bins of grain and other merchandise are now being whisked over the country by the power of a steam locomotive where formerly it had to be carried by man and horse power. Millions of people are carried from one place to another by automobiles and trolley cars, by the sprites of gasoline and electricity which have taken the place of the cruder forms.

And now comes Frank G. Baum, of San Francisco, who after six years of experiment declares that a startling super-power development is possible by his device known as the "synchronizing condenser and regulator."

This has been purchased by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, which claims that it solves the question of transmitting economically large amounts of electric power over great distances.

It is said that it eliminates distance as a barrier in power and light transmission, that it increases the capacity of the amounts of power and light transmissable, and that by it just as much power reaches the destination as starts from the generating plant.

If this is so it means that our numerous power resources in water falls and elsewhere can be utilized in bringing power to every farm house in the country, and that the railroads will be electrified.

It is as though a million new workers moved in from the planet Mars, workers which are tireless and which are the abject slaves of man's intelligence. This does more to increas the population of a country than a million coolies brought here from China would do, for the man power of the country is not to be estimated alone in the number of souls it contains, but in the number of units of power it can set in motion.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

KEEP THEM THERE.

There are many thoughtless Americans who say in this Chinese trouble:—"The Chinese are right. It should be China for the Chinese. Send the Foreigners home." Mr. Ramsay MacDonald is visiting the United States at this time. He was at one time the Premier of Great Britain. He happened to be Premier after he became more or less of a Socialist. He was at one time a member of the Liberal Party. When he was a member of the Liberal Party he believed that England's greatness lay in the Trade Routes. He is not an ignoramus, but he now joins the common clamor and says: "Send them home."

Supposing all the Englishmen on the face of the Earth who are employed by English firms in English Colonies in all the foreign ports of the world were to be sent home. Think of it. The little islands in the North Sea, designated as the home of Englishmen, Scotchmen, Welshmen, and Irishmen, could not possibly hold the returning population. England's life depends upon the men who have gone out and who are going out, and who will go out from these Islands, into all part of the world, and trade as Englishmen. It is just the way with the United States. We fought for an "Open Door" in Japan and China, and what did and what does the "Open Door" mean. Nothing more or less than a Door through which American goods—the product of American workmen, American grains—the product of American farmers, and American commerce, find an outlet for the surplus product of America. If the Americans who have gone out to China, and into the ports and cities of the Nations of the Earth were to be sent "home" and their business declared at an end, the days of American greatness would be numbered.

The human cry of "Send them home" will die out like many other clamors. We did not send five thousand marines to Shanghai and Pekin for the purpose of evacuating every American from China, or for the purpose of ending our commercial relations with China and the Chinese. It was for the purpose of, and the sole purpose, of protecting American interests in China, and safeguarding the great channels of trade.

Speedin' Dan on his way t'—well,
If he'd only stopped t' look an' listen,
He'd be livin' now, instead o' missin'.

C. B. D.

CHARLES B DRISCOLL

THERE IS A TIDE.

Workmen were destroying a building the other day at the corner of Broadway and Courtland street. Standing with the noon-time crowd of idlers watching the work, I was struck by the peculiar nature of the structure that was being demolished and I made some inquiries to satisfy my curiosity. I heard a story evidently true which is much too good to keep.

This structure now being demolished is known as the Benedict building because of some lessee who occupied it for many years. The building six stories high, was erected about 75 years ago and was the first building with an iron frame. It was thus the precursor of all the steel frame skyscrapers in all large cities.

When the building was going up crowds gathered daily at a safe distance expecting to see it topple over. The iron pillars and framework were bolted together with wrenches and none in those crowds of watchers could then foresee the day when the continuous popping of riveting guns would make nervous wrecks of thousands of New Yorkers annually.

Peter Gilsey built the first iron-frame structure. At that time he was perhaps the most talked about man in town. Some said he must be crazy to expect the earth to hold up an iron building without caving in. Others accused him of criminal negligence in compelling workmen to submit to the dangers involved on an iron frame six stories high that must assuredly topple into the street of its own topheaviness. But Peter Gilsey wasn't worried. He had his day of trial and small things no longer bothered him.

A few years before Peter Gilsey began erecting the first iron frame building in the world he was broke. He had spent his last three dollars for a pistol and a cartridge and he stood on the wall of the Battery where the sea comes up to the city's foot, determined to shoot himself in the head and topple off the wall into the salt water. He had planned it all in detail during the long days and nights of his increasing discouragement.

Looking down to fix the spot where he would fall Peter Gilsey discovered that the tide was out and there was no water in the wall to drown a man who might not be killed by one pistol shot. This circumstance gave the discouraged man a little shock and also gave him a little more time to think.

"Maybe the tide has changed" he said. And it had. Shakespeare says there is a tide in the affairs of men which taken at the flood leads on to fortune. Gilsey took his tide at the ebb. But it led on to great fortune for he lived long and happily and became one of the richest men of that generation.

Al Smith Speaks At Rotary Club Noon Meeting

Al Smith of the Roberson-Smith Stock company which is playing at the Capitol theatre was the speaker af the Rotary luncheon held at the Fountain Inn dining room today noon.

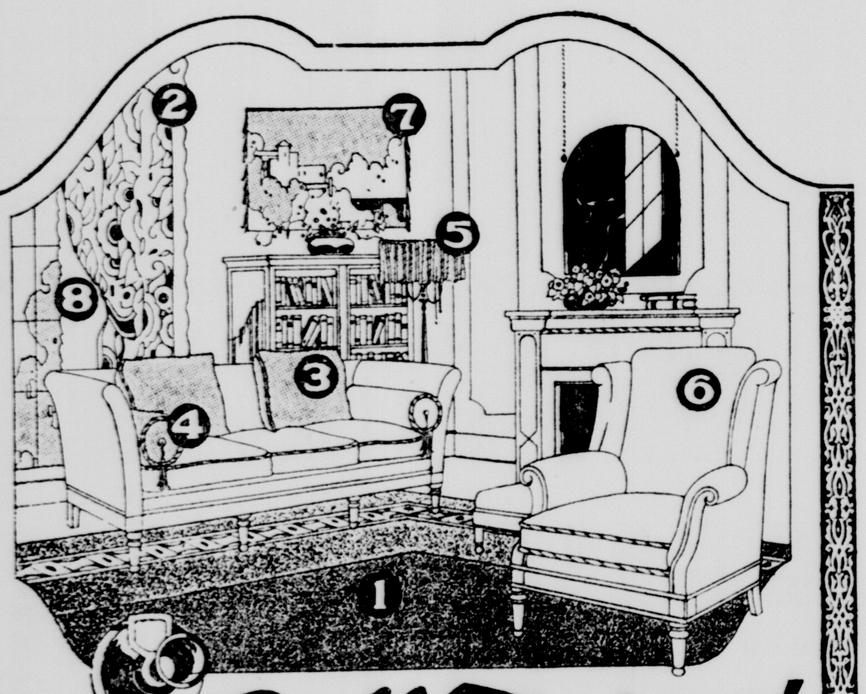

Mr. Smith gave some very interesting experiences of how he started in as an advance man several years ago. He says that he is glad to see that so many people are glad to support the living drama in spite of the fact that motion pictures have greatly monopolized the theater-going public.

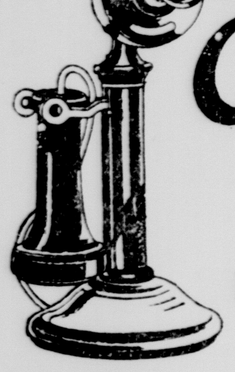

At the invitation of Mr. Smith the members of the Rotary club together with a companion are to be the guests of the Stock company at the shown Thursday evening of this week. Special reserved seats will be provided.

Cooper & Butler -:- CLOTHING

WHAT IS IT PROMP... TO BUY BETTER CLOTHI...

It's exactly the same principle that prompts you to differentiate between a $500 and a $1,000 automobile. The $1,000 car will give you more mileage, lend an air of distinction and still be smart looking at the end.

Same with suits. We can sell you a dandy all wool one at $28.50. Or a splendid one at $35 or $40. But at $45 to $50 you can get beautiful woolens, distinctive patterns and fine tailoring not possible in a suit selling for less.

If you want a suit authentically cut and dependable in quality—at moderate price—it's here.

If you're a man who enjoys distinction in clothing; one who realizes that high grade clothing is an investment in the end—you'll enjoy looking over this superb collection of Spring suits from America's best makers.

SALARY RAISE FOR POSTMASTER

Hillsville Post Office Becomes One Of Presidential Rating This Year

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 9.—Because of the large increase in their postal business during the last year, postoffices at Hillsville, Lawrence county, and East Butler, Butler county, have been raised from the fourth class to presidential grade, effective July 1, the Postoffice department announced today.

The postmasters at these offices will now receive an annual salary of $1,200 each, instead of having their compensation fixed by the current stamp sales. The present postmasters will be eligible for reappointment as presidential appointees without taking another examination provided their records as fourth-class postmasters are satisfactory to the Postoffice Department, and provided they have the endorsement of the patrons of their offices and the local Republican organizations. If for some reason the postmaster is not reappointed an examination will be called to select eligible candidates. The Senate must confirm the President's nomination before a four-year commission can be issued.

TWO WOMEN FOUND HELP

Their Sickness Banished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Nina Matteson, Box 206, Oxford, N. Y., writes—"If it had not been for your medicine, I could not have done my work as it should have been done. Mother told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I had read in different papers what it had done for different women. She wanted me to try it, so my husband got me one bottle at first; then I took two others. * * * Now I am feeling quite strong again."

Mrs. Ernest Tanguay of Adams, Mass., says she was ill for four years and could not sleep nights or go out on the street. She read about the Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking eight bottles she was able to do all her work and go anywhere and is quite herself again.

This dependable Vegetable Compound is a household word in thousands of homes. The fourth generation is now learning the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If this medicine has helped other women, why shouldn't it help you? At your druggist's.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

Lettuce has come to be known as one of our best health foods. While the white head lettuce is very good to look at, it contains no vitamines. Green leaf lettuce contains vitamins A, B and C. Therefore, from a health standpoint, the green lettuce should be served instead of head.

Lamb Chops — Baked Potatoes
Green Onion — Leaf Lettuce
Buttered Asparagus
Orange Tapioca Pudding — Tea

TODAY'S RECIPES

Orange Tapioca Puddings—One-fourth cup quick-cooking tapioca, one-half cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, two cups water, grated rind one-half orange, three oranges. Cook tapioca, sugar and salt with water until transparent. Remove from fire and add grated orange rind. Cool slightly. Pare oranges, divide into sections, removing membrane. Pour tapioca mixture over orange sections and mix well. Serve cold with cream and sugar, or if you wish, serve it with your favorite fruit sauce.

SUGGESTIONS To Wind Yarn

When you have no one to hold your yarn for winding, place two flat irons on the table as far apart as the length of the skein and stretch the yarn over them.

Important Trifles

Watercress makes a nice garnish for a change from the more usual parsley.

Toothbrushes should frequently be dipped into boiling water to disinfect them.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 9.—Instead of wielding the usual rolling pin to settle a family argument, Mrs. Antonio Neidbielski, 32, of Pittsburgh used a kettle filled with boiling water and today she and Stephen, 48, her husband, are in a local hospital suffering with severe burns about the head and face.

Neibielski attempted to grab the kettle from his wife when she tried to throw it at him. The kettle upset on both of them.

Will Make Plans For Girls Night Banquet Tuesday Evening; Important Meeting

Members of the Senior Hi-Y will meet this evening at 5:30 in the Y. M. C. A., for one of the most important meetings of the year as plans for the girls night banquet to be held Tuesday evening will be made. Each member of the organization will bring his girl friend to the affair tomorrow evening feeling assured that they will have a fine time.

The program of the evening will be in charge of the following committee: Jack Huston, chairman; John Boston and Travis French. Decorations and menu will be taken care of by the following: Alfred Reed, chairman, Graham Patterson, Francis Sage and William Beall.

The meeting this evening will be the next to the last of the year, making it of double importance. When the club organized again next school term, it will have around 16 of the 36 now in the club to start the year. This means that 20 Seniors are now in the organization and will leave when the present school term closes, these boys are: Clay Aubel, Richard Bartley, William Beall, James Blanning, Roy Frampton, Robert Gordon, Harold Guy, James Huston, William Kirk, Harry Lampe, Norman Lockhart, Kennith McLure, Walter McGrath, Graham Patterson, Gerald Post, Alfred Reed, Ransford Riddle, George Trainor, Stanton Wettick and Dave Young.

Epworth Players To Present Plays

Entertainment To Take Place Tuesday Evening At 8 O'clock In The Church

Epworth players of the Epworth M. E. church will present three one-act plays Tuesday evening, May 10, at 8 o'clock in the church. About twenty characters will take part. The proceeds will be used for the Epworth League institute which will take place during the summer.

The following is the cast of characters:

"The Minister's Bride", comedy. Mrs. Harriet Kearns, Dorothy Kane, Helen Drumm, Grace and Myrna Stitzinger, Lavina McConahy, Ada Miller, Leona Sankey.

Characters for "The Bishop's Candles Stick"—taken from Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables"—Mrs. Wayne Stitzinger, Mrs. Leon Drumm, David Huffman and Elmer Delancy.

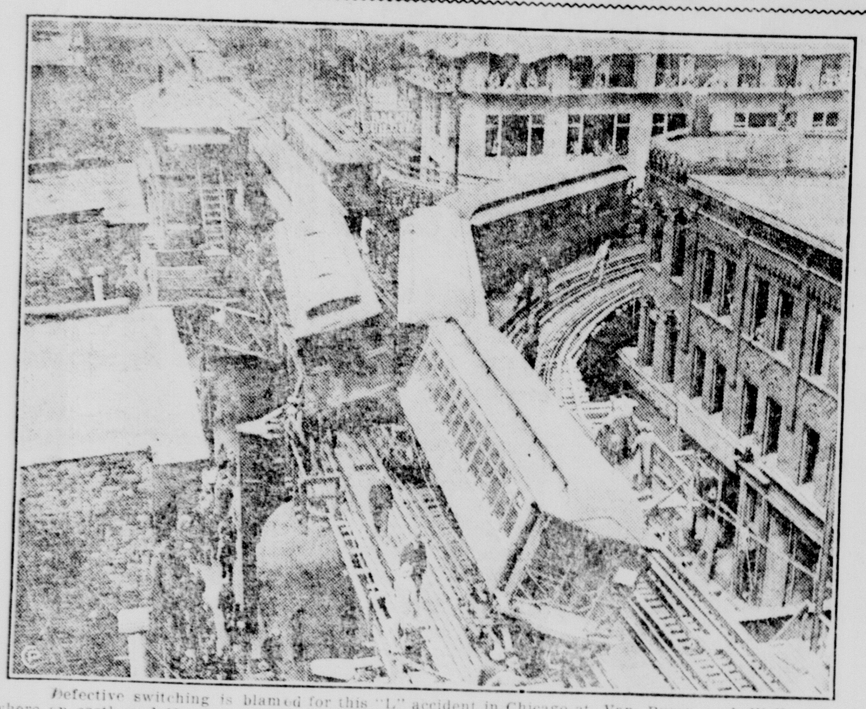

Characters for "Thirty Minutes for Refreshments"—Helen Weingartner, Paul Riley, Robert Weingartner, Margaret Shaffer, Leona Sankey and Dale Miller.

GUARD GATES AGAIN BROKEN

Motorists seems to have a spite at the guard gates of the P. & L. E. railroad crossing on West Washington street for this morning for the fourth time in the last six months have they been broken off by some reckless driver.

This morning, about 10:50, a runabout bearing Ohio license number A2811 ran into and broke squarely off the east gate on the north side of the street, as the watchman was lowering it on the approach of the P. & L. E. speeder.

"L" Cars Almost Topple Into Street Below

Defective switching is blamed for this "L" accident in Chicago at Van Buren and Wells streets, where an eastbound Humboldt Park train crashed into the rear of a Wilson avenue express at a switch turn. The cars careened as if they would plunge into the street below. Two persons were injured.

Engineers Score Triumph Moving Big Span

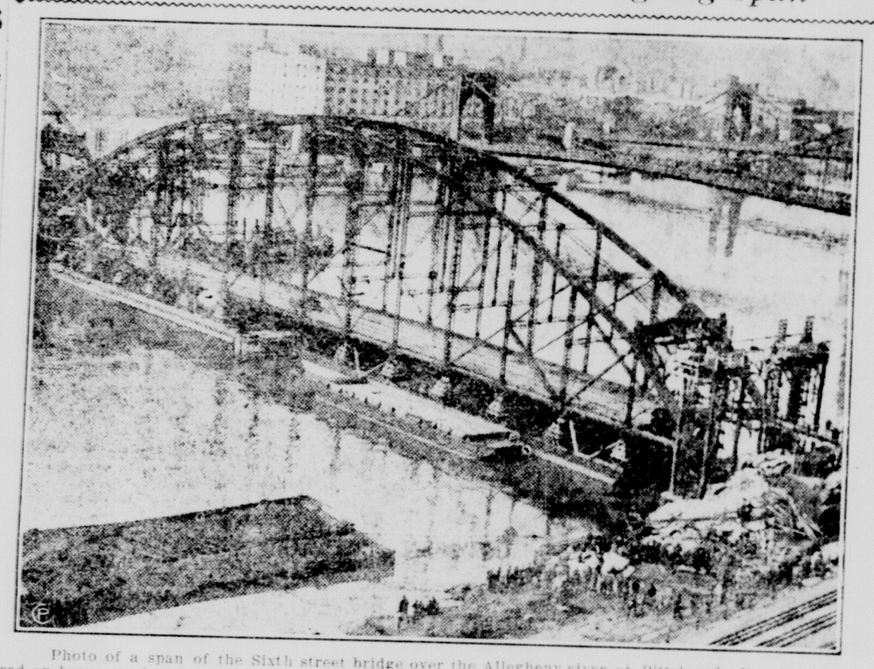

Photo of a span of the Sixth street bridge over the Allegheny river at Pittsburgh, Pa., being lowered on barges to be moved down the Allegheny and Ohio rivers for eleven miles to be used in a bridge over a back channel between Coraopolis and Neville Island, at the lower end of Pittsburgh harbor. A larger span replaces it over the Allegheny.

Some day someone will do it once too often and be caught by one of the trains as they make the crossing and the motorist gets tangled up with a demolished gate.

The folding card table would be a great invention if it practiced moderation.

The burning question soon will be the sun instead of coal prices.

Verdict Must Stand In Automobile Case Brought By Miles

Opinion Handed Down By Judge Hildebrand Dismisses Motion Of Defense

The Hermes-Grove Dairy Company must pay a verdict of $250 to A. C. Miles, according to an opinion handed down by Judge Hildebrand this morning.

The case was one in which Miles sued for damages on the grounds that his automobile had been struck by a truck of defendant company on the New Castle-Youngstown road and damaged.

At the trial of the case the testimony of the drivers was directly contradictory. Miles claimed that he was driving toward New Castle with his wife and daughter. It was rather foggy. He said that he was going from 15 to 20 miles an hour when he saw the truck coming toward him, about 100 feet ahead. The truck, he claimed, was in the center of the road. Miles says he pulled his right wheels off the concrete, thinking he could pass, but was struck. The driver of the truck, on the other hand, claimed that he was on his own side of the road and that the car of Miles was in the center of the road. After the verdict was returned against the Hermes-Groves Company attorneys for defense made a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict, claiming contributory negligence on the part of Miles. The court is unwilling to say that Miles was guilty of contributory negligence, according to the opinion.

Advise Women

to adopt new hygienic method and retain freshness this way; true protection; discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

LARGELY on medical advice, women are abandoning the old-time "sanitary pad" for a new way that supplants uncertainty with positive protection.

Sheer frocks and ill-timed social engagements no longer remain as worries. Lost days are fewer, and health better.

It is called "KOTEX." Ends the insecurity of old-time sanitary pads; 5 times as absorbent! And deodorizes—ends all fear of offending.

✓ As easily disposed of as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." Buy without hesitancy, and be sure to get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

Eight in 10 better-class women employ it. Proves the risk of old ways.

Lone Wet Bill Given Veto By Governor Fisher

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 9.—One Lone Bill, bearing a wet label, that struggled through the legislature, was vetoed today by Gov. John S. Fisher. It was sponsored by Rep. Robert Haas, Lehigh, and would have prevented trial for the same offense in both state and federal courts.

At the same time along with thirteen additional vetoes the governor announced his disapproval of the joint resolution aiming to correct alleged rate discrimination which affects adversely the bituminous industry in Pennsylvania. The resolution was sponsored by Senator Chauncey Parkinson, Green county.

Maintaining that violation of a United States statute and one of a state is two separate and distinct transgressions the governor, in his veto message on the Haas bill said the offender is therefore subject to trial in both courts. To say that such a defender could not be tried in both instances the governor held, "is meaningless."

He cited a supreme court decision which held that conviction and punishment against the state's law is no bar to trial in a federal court and added that he "could see no possible advantage which would result from approval of the bill."

In vetoing the Parkinson resolution the governor went into a number of angles of the purposes at which the bill aimed and then said: "under these circumstances the approval would be useless and ineffectual gesture."

The resolution would have "directed and authorized" the public service commission to make effective intra-state freight rates if the legal power to do it could be found. The governor said he was satisfied that was impossible without bearing on inter state rates and transcending its power.

Examination Papers Are Being Received

County Superintendent of Schools J. C. Syling is receiving examination papers of pupils who took the high school entrance examinations held throughout the county Saturday. Some of the committee have not yet reported, so that it will be some days before Superintendent Syling will be able to give a list of those who have passed.

Change Dates For Driver's Examinations

Examinations for automobile drivers will be given in Ellwood City, the second Thursday of each month in Pittsburgh Circle, and Glenn avenue, between the hours of 9 and 4 o'clock.

The examination day in Slippery Rock has been changed from the second Thursday to the third Tuesday of each month.

Young Farmers Week At State On June 15-18

County Agent H. R. McCulloch has been advised by A. L. Baker, state club leader, of the Pennsylvania State College, that the seventh annual young farmers' week will be held at State College June 15 to 18.

The program is open to all farm boys and girls of the state and will appeal especially to members of agricultural clubs under the direction of the county agent and to pupils in vocational schools and departments.

Six young people from this county formed part of the 451 alert farm boys and girls who attended a similar event last year. Young farmers' week was planned by the extension division of the college and provides several days of worthwhile inspiration, instruction and recreation under the supervision of members of the college teaching and extension staff.

McCulloch expects to have one dairy and one swine judging team to represent Lawrence county in the contests at State College this year.

During the same week, extending from June 13 to 20, inclusive, the second annual leadership training school will be held at State College. This leadership school is open to young men who have done outstanding work in agricultural clubs under the direction of the county agent.

8 Solid Trainloads of MAYTAGS for the World's Greatest Washer

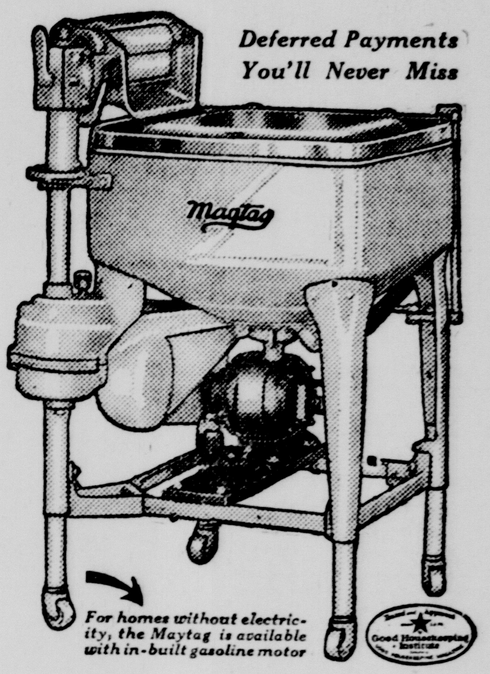

to meet the World's Greatest Demand

NEVER before has there been such a demand for any washer. Never before has there been such a monster shipment. Think of it—8 solid trainloads of MAYTAGS—213 carloads—over 15,000 washers valued at $2,500,000—the biggest shipment the world has ever known.

More women every day are calling for the Maytag—the ONLY washer with a cast-aluminum tub. The heat-retaining, self-cleaning tub that will not corrode, rot, rust, split, crack or break. The tub that holds more clothes than ordinary washers. The tub that will give life-lasting service.

More women every day want the Maytag—that washes big tubfuls in 3 to 7 minutes—that washes even collars, cuffs and wristbands without hand-rubbing—that washes cleaner, faster, easier than you ever believed possible.

Deferred Payments You'll Never Miss

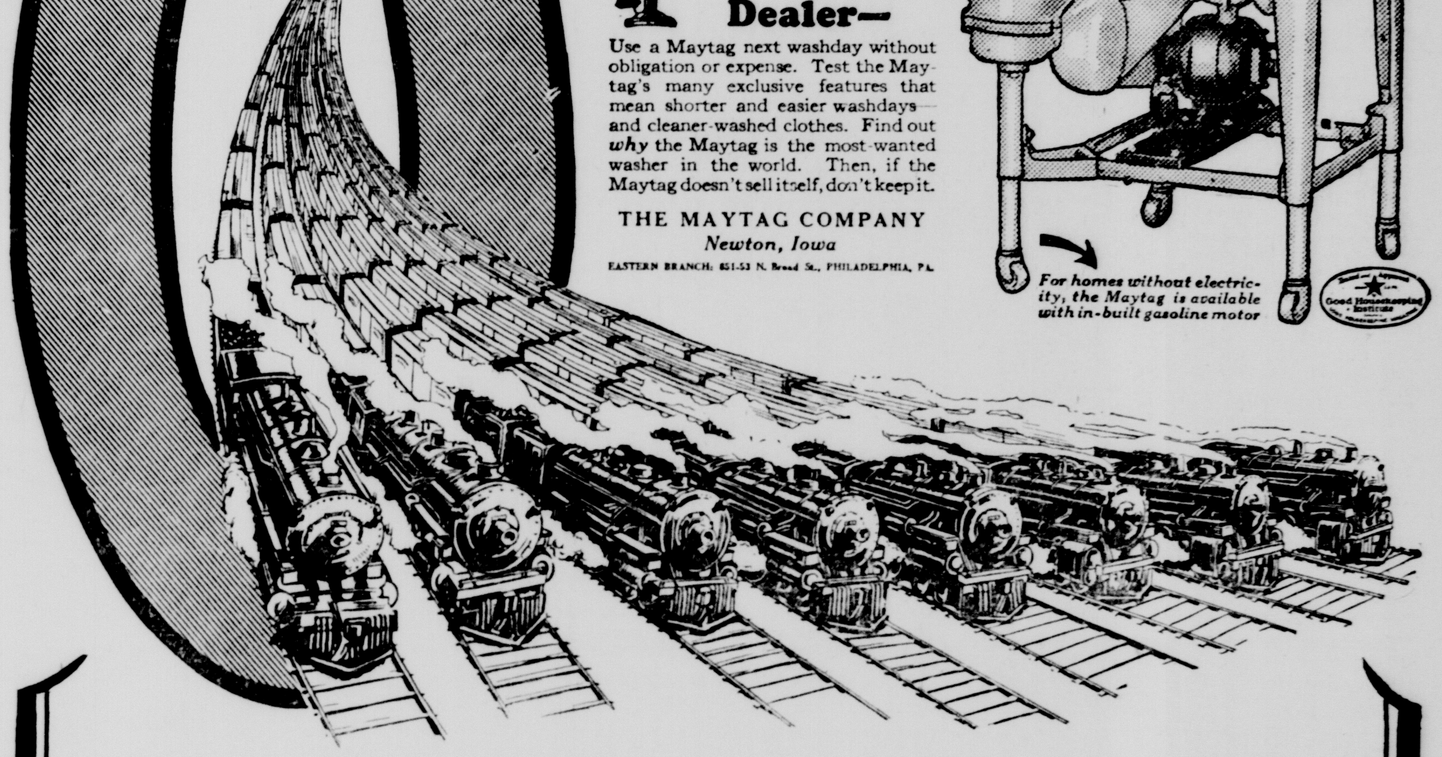

For homes without electricity, the Maytag is available with in-built gasoline motor

Phone the Nearest Dealer—

Use a Maytag next washday without obligation or expense. Test the Maytag's many exclusive features that mean shorter and easier washdays—and cleaner-washed clothes. Find out why the Maytag is the most-wanted washer in the world. Then, if the Maytag doesn't sell itself, don't keep it.

Rural Route Inspections Are Now Being Made By Acting Postmaster

Annual inspection of the rural mail routes is now being conducted by acting postmaster, Edwin H. Crawford. During the past week routes 2 and 7 were inspected and by the end of the present week he hopes to have gone over most of the other 7 routes.

Mr. Crawford, who goes over the routes with the rural carrier reports that some patrons are very careful as to the condition of the mail boxes and the posts upon which they are located while others have become quite negligent. Some have very nice posts, well painted and good boxes well preserved and names plainly painted upon them. Others have the boxes stuck up on most any kind of a post, with no paint or name in evidence at all. A great number of the boxes are worn out and should be replaced by new boxes so as to make the task of the carrier easier and to protect the mail from the weather.

The inspection which is now required to be made annually consists of the postmaster going on the route with the carrier, measuring the length of the route by a speedometer on the car, inspection of the boxes, number of boxes on the route and the number of families using the boxes.

Two or more families may use the same box provided they get permission from the owner of the box and notify the post office department of their intentions.

Mr. Crawford wishes to call the attention of the patrons of the routes that the government requires the use of regulation boxes approved by the department, and that they should have the name of the owner on the box. He says that all are using approved boxes but that several are so nearly worn out that they should be replaced with new ones in order to meet the government requirements.

Postal Receipts Show Increase

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Postal receipts at 50 industrial cities increased 3.22 per cent in April, as compared with April a year ago the figures being $3,338,120.68 and $3,233,857.37, the Postoffice Department announced today.

Waterbury, Conn., with an increase of 25.76 per cent, had the greatest gain. Harrisburg, Pa., was third with an increase of 24.04 per cent.

Don't be a Victim of "Spring Fever"

You Can Easily Avoid the Depressing Effects of the Changing Season.

In the Spring, many people find themselves losing appetite, are overcome by a lack of energy, and a run-down feeling takes possession of their whole body.

Spring is a great renovating season, when Nature throws off the accumulated impurities and prepares the system for the change it must undergo before merging into the coming Summer.

At this time, the energies relax, and an unspeakable languor pervades the entire system, giving that worn-out, good-for-nothing feeling, so commonly called "spring fever."

The important thing, therefore, is to put your system in tip-top condition, so as to be able to resist the common ailments so prevalent in Summer. You must build up the tissue and repair the wear that the system has undergone.

Now is the time to take S.S.S. It is unequalled for restoring strength, vitality and a keen appetite.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles; it improves the processes by which the body is nourished, and it is time-tried and reliable. S.S.S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

Get your S.S.S. at any good drug store. It is sold in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Dire Prophecies Are Fulfilled In Harrisburg Fire

State Printing Office Disaster Had Been Feared By Committee

In the disastrous fire which destroyed much of the state printing office in Harrisburg, the dire prophecies of John C. Dight, Superintendent of Publications and the Printing committees of the House and Senate seem to have been borne out.

During the last session an inspection of this plant was made and the danger of the plant pointed out. The upper floors of the building were divided off with highly inflammable wood, the bins for storage were of the same wood and paper was stacked about in tons. It was predicted then that if fire ever broke out in the buiding that the state of Pennsylvania would suffer a large loss, not alone in the actual value of the supplies there, but in the way of records.

At the time the session was sitting the matter of a state printing plant was discussed and steps were taken to have printing committees join as one committee and lay plans for a state plant that would be fireproof. This for the purpose of preserving the records which are stored in the plant.

For some reason the project was dropped and while members of the printing committee urged that something be done, in justice to the taxpayers of the state, and the state government itself the project was dropped.

The fire brings home in a forceful way the vital necessity of making some sort of arrangements that will at least protect the state from the loss of records and should provide for some more efficient way of getting out the state printing.

Harrisville Flock Near Record In State In March

A flock of 200 White Leghorn pullets owned by H. G. McFadden of Harrisville, stood second in the production of eggs during the month of March, according to the Pennsylvania State College poultry extension service.

The Harrisville flock of 200 pullets laid an average of 23.9 eggs each during the month. A flock of 179 white leghorn pullets owned by S. F. Hassenplug of Newton Hamilton led the list, being credited with an average of 25.1 eggs each for the month.

White Leghorns were winners in all the egg laying contests, according to State College poultry extension service, all other kinds of poultry fell behind these egg layers.

During last year, 1,366,800,000 eggs were produced in the state of Pennsylvania according to the State Department of Agriculture.

If you had all these eggs in your market basket it would weigh 85,000 tons. If you attempted to count them, it would take you 75 years working eight hours a day, to complete the job. If they were all shipped to market at one time, it would take a train 63 miles long.

That's the reason Pennsylvania is talking eggs these days along with many other states.

Modern kids are much like the old-fashioned ones except that it's harder for parents to think up lies that will be swallowed whole.

Governor Vetoes Richards' Bill

Refuses To Approve Measure Exempting $1,000 From Inheritance Tax

Among the bills vetoed by Governor John S. Fisher in the past few days was House Bill 400, presented by Representative Bart Richards, which provided for an exemption of $1000.00 in estates where direct inheritance tax is paid to the state. In his remarks concerning the veto of the bill Governor Fisher said that it reduced the state revenues somewhat, and that the legislature had made no provision to make up the loss.

The actual reduction in revenue, according to figures compiled by the Auditor General's department, would not have exceeded $400,000.00 per year, and even this figure was subjected to serious doubts while the last session was in progress. In addition, the State of Pennsylvania has a large surplus in the treasury at the time, and the bill was drawn to relieve the burden of on unjust tax upon persons left a small estate.

The bill had the endorsement of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, the committee charged with the responsibility of seeing where the revenues come from, and also that no legislation was allowed to slip through that would unduly reduce the revenues. After careful consideration of the bill and what it provided, this committee strongly favored it. The bill also was endorsed by the Auditor General's Department.

When the original Inheritance or Transfer Tax law was signed by Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh in 1917, he did so only under the compulsion of the need of revenue. His remarks, which are in the Pamphlet Laws for that session were that he signed the bill if Representative Richards was drawn with the idea of establishing the principle of tax reduction in inheritance taxes. Apparently the only thing to be done now is to begin work on a movement that will add an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania reducing or abolishing such tax.

Eagles Pay Honor To Mothers Sunday

Impressive Ceremony Is Conducted At Home Of Organization

No fraternal ceremonial of the order, however impressive, could ever hope to equal the Mothers' Day Memorial service held by the New Castle Aerie, 455, of the Fraternal Order of Eagles Sunday night, May 8, in the clubrooms on South Jefferson street.

The service was one of tender memory, genuine respect, a service that found every man and woman present on the common ground of mother love.

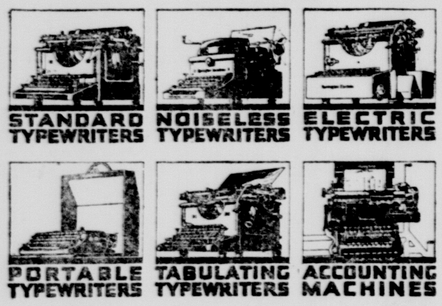

Judge David Jenkins of Youngstown, O., a former New Castle man, was the speaker of the evening and his address will be remembered by those present as one of the finest pieces or oratory heard in the local lodge room. He made no attempt to be flowery, nor did he dress his words with a lot of meaningless gestures, but the very simplicity of his address was far more impressive for it. In it he paid a wonderfully touching tribute to the memory of the mothers who have gone to their reward, and added a word of admonition for those mothers who are still here.

Attorney George W. Muse was the chairman of the evening and in opening the meeting he also paid a tribute to motherhood. He introduced Rev. R. G. Roscamp, who delivered the invocation and benediction and who also delivered a short oration.

Special music for the evening was provided by the Tin City quartet, composed of Messrs. George Anthony, Arthur Thomas, Billy Williams and Harry Evans, with Edwin Lewis at the piano. Anthony and Evans sang a duet and a vocal solo was sung by Miss Bertha Taylor. Francis Jones was heard in a reading and Billy Williams sang "Little Mother of Mine".

The service was the annual Mothers' Day service of the local aerie of Eagles and was a credit to the organization and to those who had a part in it.

A Machine for Every Purpose

THE Remington Line is the one and only complete and universal typewriter line, including a machine for every purpose and for every conceivable condition of service.

Standard Typewriters, Noiseless Typewriters, Electric Typewriters, Tabulating Typewriters, Portable Typewriters, Vertical Adding Typewriters, and Bookkeeping Machines of every kind and description are all included in this universal line. And every one of these many Remingtons represents the very last word in the field that it covers.

This completeness of the Remington Line—a new development in the industry—enables the typewriter and bookkeeping machine user to practice selective buying to a degree hitherto impossible. Whatever your needs may be, whether general or special, there is sure to be a machine in the Complete Remington Line which fits these needs—exactly.

In making the right selection, the Remington representative can render you most helpful assistance. His training is as complete as the line which he sells; he knows the machine which should be used under every given condition—and for each and every purpose. And this knowledge and training is freely at your service.

Seven Dead In Michigan, Result Of Machine Wrecks

(International News Service)

DETROIT, May 9.—Seven persons were dead, four injured and three under arrest today as result of week-end automobile accidents in Michigan.

Frank Cory of Lima, O., was killed when a car, traveling at a high rate of speed, skidded on the gravel and turned over several times, landing in a culvert, near Ann Arbor.

The driver of the car, John L. Kurtz, a junior University of Michigan literary student, whose home is in Clearfield, Pa., received minor cuts and bruises.

Five others were killed in the Detroit area and one near Adrian.

First Straw Hats Seen On Streets

Next to the groundhog in forecasting the weather, probably the most reliable prognosticators, are those intrepid souls who sport the first straw hats. The season was ushered in Saturday when several straw hats, all of the vintage of 1926 were seen on the streets. This is said to be a sure sign that warm weather is just around the corner. Hat stores are placing the straws on display.

Nine Days Married; Asking For Divorce

Deserted before the orange blossoms had faded, Mrs. Helen Stefanowicz has filed an application for divorce from her husband, Joseph Stefanowicz. They were married, according to the libel on the second day of November, 1924, and lived together until the 11th day of the same month, or a total of nine days. It is claimed that the desertion occurred without reasonable cause.

Council Adopts Recreation Bill

Several Other Measures Are Passed By City Solons Today

BOND ORDINANCE TO BE ADVERTISED

Members of city council in formal session today at city hall adopted Councilman Walter V. Tyler's ordinance providing for the creation of a recreational board and defining the duties of the five men who will be named by Mayor William Dunlap.

According to the ordinance, one member will serve until December 31, 1927, a second to December 31, 1928, a third until December 31, 1929, a fourth until December 31, 1930, and a fifth until December 31, 1931.

The board shall exercise all rights and authority and act under and in accordance with a state law.

The ordinance will become effective within 10 days and under plans of councilmen additional property will be used for recreation here.

Two members from the school board will be named as will two from council. The fifth member will be a non-office-holder. The school board members, it is believed, will co-operate to such an extent that school board property available, will be used by the children during summer and winter.

Other Measures Adopted

Other ordinances adopted today follow:

Providing for the condemnation and purchase of a certain tract of land in the Sixth ward of which Joseph O'Connor is the reputed owner. The land will be used to extend the playground facilities of the city and cost approximately $1,750.

Providing for the grading and paving of Young Street in the Second Ward from Park to Moody avenues and for the payment of the costs and expenses thereof and for the assessment against abutting property-owners.

Fixing and establishing a grade in Cascade street between the city line near East Washington street and Croton avenue.

Council also ordered that the ordinance providing for the grading of Cascade street from the city line near East Washington street to Croton avenue and for the payment of the damages, costs and expenses thereof and for the assessment thereof upon the abutting properties.

Council also instructed the city clerk to advertise the foregoing ordinance for 30 days and also to advertise the ordinance, increasing the city's bond indebtedness $100,000, once each week during the next four weeks. The $100,000 to be borrowed will be devoted to improving streets and erecting a new garbage plant or remodelling the present structure.

North Street Junior Hi-Y Meets Wednesday

North Street Junior Hi-Y will meet Wednesday evening, May 11, in the Y. M. C. A., at 7:30 for their regular weekly session. Members will note the change of date from Tuesday, the regular meeting night, to Wednesday. This was necessary because of the Senior Hi-Y girl's night banquet being held Tuesday. As John Leonard, supervisor of the club, will be busy, the officers will take charge.

A short cabinet meeting will be held at 7:17 for the consideration of new members.

Flood Fund Is Growing Here

More Aid Is Needed, However, To Reach Quota Of $20,000

BENEFIT PLANS NOW MATURING

Some subscriptions came in to the Red Cross over the week-end for the Mississippi flood relief, but not enough to indicate that the rubber bands were being taken off the bank rolls of Lawrence county. The difficulty seems to be that everybody is agreed that this is a noble work, that somebody should do it, but that the somebody should be somebody else.

One contribution that stands out like a lighthouse is the one reported on Saturday from the Crecent Portland Cement company, for $650.00. Without solicitation, without any personal appeal, the employes of the Crescent company started a fund at the plant and in a few hours had raised $400.00. Told what his employes had done D. M. Kirk, president of the company said that he didn't want his employes doing something the company wouldn't do and added $250 to the fund.

Splendid Piece of Work

This piece of work is one that calls for the commendation of the entire county. Through it, Mr. Kirk has merely proved again that he and his company are interested in Lawrence county projects, that they are willing at all times to cooperate with any civic movement that has for its object the improvement of conditions.

Every day the need for funds becomes more vital. Today it appears that another break in one of the levees along the Mississippi is imminent and this will add 250,000 more to the refugee list of nearly 400,000. Nearly a half million people are depending today upon the charity of the American people. If they do not respond, then the Americans who are destitute in the South will suffer. Epidemic is beginning to take its toll, food is needed, clothing and bed clothing, shelter for women and children, and all these things can be procured only through the charity of the American people. The question then devolves itself into a personal responsibility and how much of this responsibility Lawrence county is willing to take.

Golf Tournament Wednesday

On Wednesday afternoon the New Castle Field club is holding a Flood Relief Golf tournament. Everybody is invited to participate, whether or not they belong to the Field club. The minimum entrance fee is $1.50, but nobody's arm is going to be broken if they offer any more.

Tuesday night the Subscription dance at the Field club will be the means of raising some money. M. D. Wells, chairman of the Entertainment committee of the club announced that sometime during the evening, a contribution would be taken from the guests and the total turned over to the Red Cross.

Fifteen hundred tickets are out today for the Charity ball and Mardi Gras which will be held Tuesday, May 17, in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, and forty-five hundred more will be sent out today and tomorrow. The tickets are one dollar each and while the ticket admits one to the affair, it does a larger good than that, in that it really amounts to a contribution to the flood relief.

No American with any heart at all can refuse to take one or two tickets. The need for funds is so crying, so outstandingly necessary that it almost seems remarkable that the Red Cross office is not flooded with money to help alleviate the pitiful conditions of the flood sufferers.

And of course there is always this question recurring. Supposing the flood had swept the Shenango and Neshannock valleys. Supposing that the entire area from Greenville to Beaver Falls was under water, that New Castle homes and property were washed away? What then?

Loses $100,000!

Jules Berman, broker's messenger, was seized in Wall Street, thrown into an automobile, robbed of $100,000 worth of securities, and left in a vacant lot, he told police. Police held him pending an investigation of his story.

Alleged Driving While Intoxicated

Thomas Manning of Youngstown is in the county jail on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Manning was arrested by Constable McClenahan of New Bedford, Sunday, after he had driven his automobile into a field. He was taken before Justice of the Peace C. L. Zedaker, where an information was made. Bail was fixed at $500. It is expected that Manning will be released on bail today, as friends are here in his behalf.

Boy Scout News

Troop 15

The First Christian church troop 15 of the Boy Scouts of America held a weekly meeting in the church Thursday evening, May 5, from 7:30 to nine o'clock. Scoutmaster Sidney Smith, Assistant Scoutmaster Ed Schmid and Committeemen Ralph Montgomery and Dr. Gilmore were present and took charge of the large number of scouts.

During the business meeting Stewart Loveridge was presented with his tenderfoot badge. Some time was given to the discussion of Camp Phillips. This troop has been assigned the first period for camp. The scouts are making plans to attend the two week period as planned for them. Several games were played by teams with McCracken's team defeating Van Horn's team.

The next meeting of the troop will be held Thursday evening, May 12. A prominent member of the city will be present to speak to the boys, helping to distribute fly swatters.

Scribe, Geo. McCracken.

Pine Tree Patrol

The Pine Tree patrol of troop 15 under Patrol Leader George McCracken and Assistant Patrol Leader Ben Nessle held a meeting Wednesday evening, May 4, and another meeting Thursday evening. Plans for the Camporee are nearing completion and as the big meet is only three weeks off a number of overnight hikes have been planned. The first will take place Friday evening, May 13. Scouts to take part in the hike are Patrol Leader McCracken, Assistant Patrol Leader, Ben Nessle, Warren Van Horn, Robert McNeese, William Stump, Robert Calahan, Russell O'Neil, Junior Brown and Jack Jones.

The patrol members will meet again Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of this week.

Scribe, George McCracken.

Troop 14

The Boy Scout troop 14 of the Lawrence County Council held its regular meeting at the Y. W. C. A. on Elm street, Friday evening, May 6, with a large number of scouts in attendance. Scoutmaster Wilkes and Assistant Scoutmaster Ward were in charge.

During the business meeting the following scouts passed tenderfoot tests. Harry Almond, Harold Watson and Theodore Bell. Scouts of this troop are assisting in the distribution of fly swatters as a good turn.

Assistant Scout Executive Named

Due to the resignation of Mr. Fred Poister of Ellwood City who left recently to accept a position in Tuscon, Arizona, and who had previously been working in the capacity of Assistant Scout Executive, a vacancy occurred in the staff of the Lawrence County Council, Boy Scouts of America. At a meeting of the Ellwood District Committee held last night, Mr. C. R. Knallay was appointed to the office of Assistant County Executive.

The new assistant has had considerable experience in Scout work and was formerly Scoutmaster of the Ewing Park Scout troop. It is believed great work will be done in Scouting by the new assistant.

Fly Swatters Distributed

Several thousand fly swatters were received in the local office of the Lawrence County Boy Scout Council Headquarters which were distributed among the public by the Scouts. Because of the necessity of the elimination of the deadly fly, for the good of New Castle, the Scouts were glad of the opportunity to perform such a broad good turn.

Troop 18

Highland troop 18 will meet Tuesday evening in the church. All members are to be present. Scoutmaster Ralph Davis will be in charge.

Troop 10

A meeting of the Epworth Church troop has been called for Tuesday evening. It will be held at the Aiken school at 7 o'clock. Scoutmaster Guy L. Raney will be in charge.

Viewers To Assess Cost Of New Sewer

Judge Hildebrand has appointed J. Clarence Patterson, W. Leslie Brindle and A. Clyde Shoaff, to assess the cost of construction of the Gibson street sewer.

Nature Renews Life In the Spring

No Need for You to Drag Around Half Sick Now World's Tonic Will Put You Up to Enjoyment of Life

Thousands of people are miserable every Spring. They think they have "spring fever," and many of them have come to believe they must go through just so much misery every Spring.

Now what ails people like this is that their blood is full of poison, which in turn has come from the colds, confinements and rich foods of winter. Often the colds leave an inflammation of the membranes of the nose and throat that developes into catarrh. Such people feel tired all the time. They want to hang around the fire and bask in the sun. Their food doesn't taste good, and they haven't any energy.

Cheer up, old friend! What you need is a good medicine that will do three things: First, clear out your system, helping nature to get rid of all waste. Second, purify your blood and help nature enrich it. Third, correct the catarrhal condition before it gets serious.

Thousands of people depend on World's Tonic every Spring. With it they literally make themselves over, recovering energy, getting rich blood that fills them with ambition, and stores up an abundance of the vim and zest that make life worth living.

Don't drag around any more. Get a bottle of World's Tonic at McKee's, Eckerd's, Paisley's, Smith's drug store or of any reliable druggist. You will never regret the dollar it costs you.

"Peace" Committee Fails In Purpose

Presbyterian Asembly Committee Fails To Halt Controversy

MAKE REPORT TO GENERAL ASSEMBLY

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—The "peace" committee of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, appointed to investigate conditions at Princeton Theological Seminary, failed to effect a settlement of the controversy between "estranged brethren in the faculty," according to the committee's report made public here today. The report covering 200 pages will be submitted to the General Assembly at San Francisco May 26-June 1.

The committee recommended that a single board of control replace the present board of directors and board of trustees. The report says, "The root and sourse of the serious difficulties and the greatest obstacle to the removal of these difficulties is the plan of government by two boards."

The appointment of Professor J. G. Machen to the chair of Apologetics is recommended deferred and other nominations or elections of faculty members be held up pending reorganization of the governing body.

The controversy arose between the conservative-fundamentalists and the liberal-fundamentalists.

Miss Rogers Gained 15 Pounds in Six Weeks

Skinny Men and Women Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back

My Dear Friends:

After my attack of Flu I was thin, rundown and weak. I had a sallow complexion, my cheeks were sunk in and I was continually troubled with gas on my stomach. I felt stuffy and had lost my appetite. I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healthy looking and I gained 15 pounds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

Miss Alberta Rogers, 264 W. Cerro Gorda St., Decatur, Ill.

To take on weight, grow strong and vigorous, to fill out the hollows in cheeks and neck, try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days. 60 Tablets—60 cents at druggists everywhere. If they don't give you wonderful help in 30 days, your druggist is authorized to give you your money back—you be the judge. But be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine.

Two Are Killed Near Philadelphia By Motor Accidents

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—Two persons were killed and several injured in motor collisions in this vicinity over the week-end.

Miss Louise Watt, 20, Glenside, was killed and two men companions were seriously injured when their automobile left old York road near Doylestown and plunged into a tree.

Warren E. Ruttle, Glenside, driver of the car, was held for action of the coroner. John E. Crotty, and Mercer Walton, of Glenside, were injured.

Sergeant John M. Thomas, of the Norristown barracks of the state police, was killed in a triple collision on the Ridge Pike at 11 o'clock last night. Captain Albert Caruson was injured.

Veterans Will Banquet Mothers

Annual Banquet Will Be Event Of Tuesday Evening At First Church

A most appropriate program has been prepared by the committee for the Fifth Annual Mother's Day Banquet of the Veterans of Foreign Wars which is to be held in the First United Presbyterian church on North Jefferson street on Tuesday, May 10, at 6:30 o'clock.

Ivor V. Davis has been selected as toastmaster of the occasion. And orchestra music and several solos have been arranged.

The program for the evening follows:

Invocation—Rev. S. E. Irvine.

Toastmaster's Introduction—Ivor V. Davis.

Toast to "Mother" — George Runkle.

Song, "Mother" — The Over There" boys.

Violin solo—Alvin Kane.

Mother's Response—Mrs. Harry K. Bell.

Baritone Solo—Alvin Kane.

V. F. W. Mother—John Stoner.

Pep singing will be led by the toastmaster.

Talks are also expected from the two honorary members of the V. F. W., Fred L. Rentz and S. P. Emery.

The committee on the banquet consist of John Stoner, chairman; Harold Clappie, William Lewis and Ivor V. Davis.

This annual affair is expected to be one of the biggest that has ever been held. Over a hundred mothers have stated their intentions of attending. All mothers, daughters, wives and sweet hearts of members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Association are invited to this annual banquet. The mothers of boys who went "over there" are the special guests of honor for the evening.

Johnstown Jail Prisoner Suicides

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 9. — Arrest on a disorderly conduct charge was ascribed today as the reason for the suicide of J. Blaine Gordon, 43, in his cell at the windber police station, near here, last night.

Gordon used his belt as a noose, fastening one end to a bar at the top of his cell. An attendant discovered the body a short time later.

Gordon was survived by the widow and four children.

World War Veteran Dies Of Pneumonia After Short Illness

Simon Fred Carlson Passes Away Sunday; Was In Several Important Battles During War

Simon Fred Carlson, aged 33 years, of 25 West North street, World War veteran and employe of the New Castle Caster Co., died Sunday, May 8, at noon, after an illness of pneumonia which he contracted a few days ago.

Mr. Carlson was born in Stockholm, Sweden, June 1, 1893, a son of C. V. and Christina Johnson Carlson. Before coming to New Castle he resided in Kane, Pa., where he made his home with Mrs. C. A. McCullogh of that place.

He was a member of the Baptist church of Kane, Veterans of Foreign Wars, King David Post, No. 1132, of Kane.

During the World War he enlisted on February 13, 1918, at Smethport, Pa., with the 319th Infantry. He was sent overseas May 18, 1918, where he remained until June 2, 1919.

Mr. Carlson served in some of the most important engagements during the war. Among them were : Artor's Sector, Somme, on July 2-3 and August 18, 1918; also at St. Michiel on September 12-16, 1918, and the Meuse-Argonne on September 26 to November 7.

The body has been removed to the White Undertaking Funeral parlors, Neshannock avenue. This evening at 7:30 it will be sent over the Pennsylvania lines to Kane, Pa., where additional services will be held Tuesday afternoon.

Fisher Approves $12,000 Fund For Local Hospital

Among the appropriations which have been approved by Governor John S. Fisher, is one for the Shenango Valley Hospital of New Castle, for $12,000.

Because the Jameson Memorial Hospital will undoubtedly be ready before the end of the present biennium, the bill for the appropriation was drawn in such a way that the state appropriation would go to the new hospital when the Shenango Valley is abandoned.

Deserted Child Given Adoption

At a hearing held before Judge Hildebrand this morning, Mr. and Mrs. George Braxton of Rose Point, were given permission to adopt Doris Smith, whose parents left her with the Braxton's when they went away from New Castle some time ago. Whereabouts of the parents is at present unknown to the petitioners.

Twenty-Six Pass In Life Saving Tests At Franklin High Pool

Two Women Pass Senior Life-Saving Test; Twenty-Four Pass Junior Test

Seek Through Life-Savers To Reduce Number Of Drownings Each Summer

Twenty-six residents of New Castle passed the American national life-saving tests held on Saturday morning in the Ben Franklin High swimming pool. The tests were conducted by Edwin H. Geasa, swimming instructor at the Franklin school, and by Jack Hulme, instructor of swimming at Westminster College.

Two women passed the senior tests and 24 boys and girls qualified for the junior life-saving corps. Edwin H. Geasa acted as coach of the swimmers previous to their passing the tests. The ruling requires that every applicant for a life-saving badge spend at least 15 to 20 hours with a competent instructor before attempting to pass the tests.

The tests consist of an oral quiz on life-saving, in deep water, disrobe and swim 100 yards, surface dive in eight feet of water and recover objects three times, and 10-pound weight once, correct approach and head carry for 30 feet, correct approach and head carry for 30 feet, correct approach and cross-chest carry for 30 feet, correct approach and hair or arm-lock carry for 30 feet, tired swimmers' carry, 30 feet, preceded by 60-foot swim, release double grip on one wrist, left and right, and the prone pressure method of resuscitation for a minute and a half. The above is a sample of method of the junior test. The senior test is harder to pass, the carries are longer and the holds are broken four times instead of two, and various other stunts such as the fireman's and saddle-back carry from shallow water, tread water, floating, one-minute carry, subject fully dressed, breaking two people apart and an essay on prone pressure method of resuscitation, consisting of about 500 words.

The following passed the senior life-saving test: Mrs. Jacob Rentz and Mrs. Ida M. Finnegan.

Nineteen boys passed the junior test, as follows: Wilbert Wolford, Dale Heasley, Albert Hammond, Alfonzo Szamrey, Charles Masters, Harry Mooney, Abe Alansky, James Allay, Joe Miron, Andy Lasky, William Kazinski, William Bender, Sam Wincek, John Grommes, Emil Rodgers, John George, Israel Solomon, Charles McConnell and William Wheeler.

Five girls passed the junior test, as follows: Junior High girls, Katherine Russler, Ruth Jones and Ethelyn Douthett. Mahoning Junior High girl, Virgil Wettich. Senior High girl, Ruth Miller.

The following junior life-saving girls assisted in the tests: Elizabeth Krestel, Suzanne Hill, Sara Mears and Laura Carson.

Nelson Yingling had charge of the scoring of each candidate. The following could not take the test Saturday, due to injuries or other excuses: Sara Kennedy, James Herbold and Jonathan Brown. Wendell Jennings tried hard to pass the junior test, but could not make the grade. He will be allowed to take the test again along with the others who could not take the test Saturday. Jennings deserves plenty of credit for his efforts put forth in the tests.

The aim of the American national life-saving tests, sponsored by the Red Cross, is to reduce the number of drowning victims claimed each summer and to make every boy and girl, man and woman a qualified life-saver.

Sam Crawford To Be Candidate For County Commissioner

Sam W. Crawford, well known farmer, of North Beaver township, will be among the candidates for the Republican party nomination for county commissioner, this fall, he said while in the city on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Crawford is widely known and will be a big factor in the race, his friends believe.

Mother's Circle Of School Meets May 12

The Mother's Circle of the Rose avenue kindergarten will hold its regular meeting Thursday, May 12, at 2:30 p. m., in the kindergarten. The election of officers will be held and an especially prepared program will be given. This being the last meeting of the term, a large attendance is desired. Mothers desiring a visit to the school are invited to do so before that hour.

Any mother who has had a child in kindergarten is urged to attend.

GIRL SCOUTS

MINNEHAHA TROOP

Members of the Minnehaha Girl Scout troop held their regular meeting in the club rooms of the New Castle Dry Goods Co. Saturday.

The meeting was opened with a salute to the flag with Betty Browne as color bearer.

Patrol council was held and the girls received their membership cards. It was then stated that this was troop 1 of the city.

Bean bag games and relay races were enjoyed. The meeting was closed by the singing of the scout song.

The court of honor was held and plans were discussed for the next meeting.

SENATOR WILLIS "DRY" CHOICE? AT LEAST, 'TIS SO INTIMATED

By CHARLES J. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Queer hints are afloat that Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio "may yet become the Anti-Saloon League's candidate for president."

I use the quotation marks because I picked up that particular intimation just now, in precisely those words, from a source generally believed to be connected by pipe line with the Bliss Building, where Wayne B. Wheeler hangs out.

It's a subtle suggestion I've heard several times lately, or seen in print.

It's a little like a feeler—or maybe a threat.

Frank Willis, as a dry, is no news. He always was so dry he had to be primed in order to spit, as they vulgarly express it in Washington.

If the 1928 Republican presidential nomination weren't so nearly a foregone conclusion in advance—between Coolidge, Hoover, Lowden et al—reference to Willis as a possibility might not be quite the craziest thing that ever was.

He actually was mentioned as a very, very long vice presidential shot in 1924, and while it was considered silly, nobody was sent to the bughouse for harboring the thought.

No, that isn't what makes the hints so queer.

It isn't queer, if the Anti-Saloon League wants a presidential candidate, that it should think of Willis in that role.

On the contrary, he'd be very appropriate.

He's dryer than he is anything else. He's led the Anti-Saloon League's fight before the administration for Roy A. Haynes, as untrammelled prohibition czar. It's no secret that he's laid down the law to President Coolidge and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in no measured terms.

As an active, militant prohibitionist in high office, he undoubtedly is the most prominent man in the country today.

All that's clear enough.

The puzzle is:

What scheme, if any, has the Anti-Saloon League got in the back of its head?

It is figuring on running Frank Willis as a third party candidate?

It's hard to get away from that conclusion, if it runs him at all.

The League certainly isn't going to put Willis up for the Democratic regular party nomination, against Al Smith or anybody else, for he's a Republican, dyed-in-the-wool.

It may conceivably hold that Coolidge isn't exclusively enough a dry, and that Longworth or Dawes wouldn't be. Hoover and Lowden are dry, but they have other things on their minds, too. Is it the League's plan, then, to boost Willis for the regular Republican party nomination?

Pooh!

Nobody knows better than those mighty wise Anti-Saloon League guys that omnipotence itself could hardly cram down the throat of either of the old-line party conventions a presidential candidate who was exclusively wet or exclusively dry—like Clarence Darrow or Frank Willis, say.

* * *

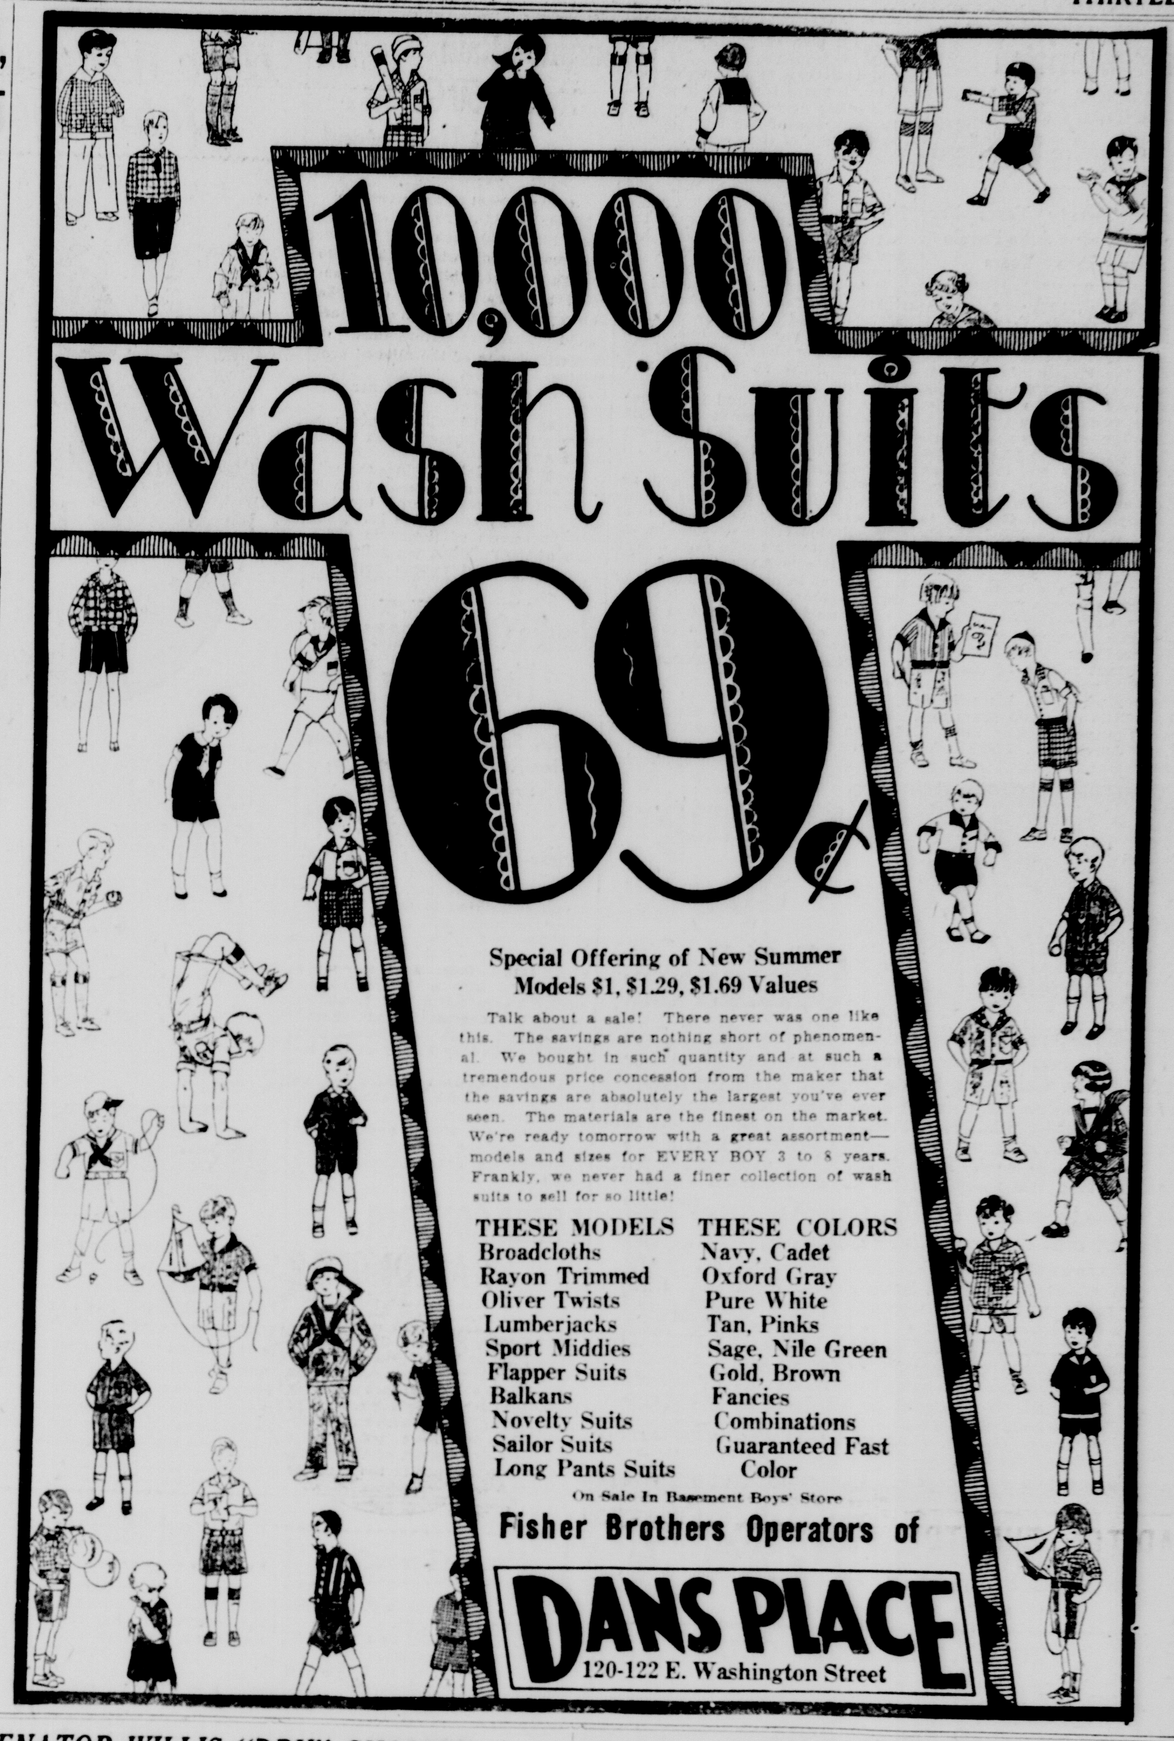

The only guess left—if those hints mean anything—is that the League's at least thinking of going to the mat on a straight-out-wet-and-dry referendum—one that will count—in 1928.

I admit it seems incredible.

But I'll swear I've heard those hints aforesaid. I'll say they're queer, and I don't mean maybe.

Farmer, Convicted Of Brutally Slaying Wife, Seeks Freedom

Sentenced Twenty Years For Revolting Crime Asks Parole After Two Years

SHARON, Pa., May 9.—John Haefner, Kinsman, O., farmer, wife murderer and perpetrator of one of the most brutal and revolting crimes in the history of Trumbull county, is making a bid for freedom that will take him from behind the cold, gray walls of the Ohio penitentiary. Less than two years ago he passed through the prison gates to begin serving a one to 20 year term for manslaughter. Haefner has filed an application for parole and is eligible under the law to a hearing on the application July 5, next.

That the granting of a parole to Haefner will ride a wave of opposition and vigorous protest is indicated in the statement of Prosecutor Lynn B. Griffith, who today declared he will fight the move to grant release of the prisoner.

Haefner, who beat his wife to death, a little over two years ago, entered the penitentiary June 1, 1925, as convict No. 54-381, following his plea of guilty to a charge of manslaughter. He has served less than two years of the one to 20 years sentence imposed.

The crime of which he was convicted was one of the most brutal in the history of the county. Only a few days before his wife's death, Haefner, possessed a violent temper, became angered at her and beat her. He was holding a piece of beef in his hand and swung the meat full in her face, striking her nose and fracturing the bone. A few days later he undertook to chastise her and administered a frightful beating. He struck his wife with a club, beat her with his fists, kicked her and one blow punctured her liver. She died the night of April 25 or early next morning.

Her body was found in an outhouse on the Haefner farm the afternoon of April 26, 1925, by Mrs. Hall R. Magee of Warren, O., a caller at the farm.

Haefner was suspected and arrested. He never confessed details of the crime. Without evidence of premeditated crime or that he intended killing his wife even during his brutal attack, he escaped with a charge of third degree murder or manslaughter.

He is seeking his freedom under the law which permits a prisoner to apply for parole after serving two years on a manslaughter charge.

An opportunist is a river-valley farmer who turns cheerfully from corn to frogs.

Bringing up Children

"MY sisters, my sister-in-law and myself all have families, and for years we have all given our children Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. We have recommended it hundreds of times and think it just wonderful, not only to bring up children but for ourselves. At the slightest sign of stomach trouble, colds, constipation and when out of sorts, a dose or two is all they need. Truly, it is a family medicine and the stitch in time that saves nine." (Name and address sent on request.)

Constipation, Colds, Coughs, Fevers and Other Perils of Childhood

One dose and mother's anxiety is lifted. The sickest stomach craves the taste of Syrup Pepsin. From infancy to old age the result is certain. Droopy, listless, feverish children respond as if to magic. Headache, stomachache, biliousness, coated tongue, constipation—these are the daily perils for which a host of mothers say Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the safeguard. Sold and recommended by all druggists.

Surprise Raid Routs 250 Guests At Homestead

(International News Service)

HOMESTEAD, Pa., May 9.—More than 250 men and women, fled from all exits when State police and Federal prohibition agents enacted a "surprise" raid on "The Subway Inn" early today and arrested Theodore Keramdis, of Homestead, one of the alleged proprietors William "Daddy Pete" Graham, manager and six other persons.

Those arrested will be given a hearing before Burgess John Cavanaugh.

Aside from slot mashines the raiders said they confiscated 27 half pints of whiskey, behind the bar and 28 half pints in the basement and 12 quarts of liquor in other parts of the building, ten gallons of gin, and several dozens bottle of beer.

MAN GOES TO DEATH OVER NIAGARA FALLS AS HUNDREDS STARE

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., May 9.—An unidentified man committed suicide here Sunday afternoon by going over the American falls. He waded out into the stream about 100 feet above the brink and was swept down by the swift current. As he passed over the crest he was under water and barely visible to the hundreds of tourists at the point.

Witnesses described the suicide as about 40, five feet, six inches tall with iron-grey hair and sunken cheeks.

Bessemer Gas Engine Plant Will Speed Up

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 9.—The local shops of the Bessemer Gas Engine Company go back on full time schedule this week and all departments except the foundry will now be working on a five and one-half day week. The foundry will work only five days each week.

For the past month or more the Bessemer plant has been working only four days a week, closing down each week on Thursday evening. A large number of substantial orders received within the last week have again placed the local plant on full time and will continue to do so, if present conditions prevail for the next few weeks.

According to the announcement made by officials of the plant there are now over 1,250 persons employed in the various departments of the company. While this total is not equal to that of a few months ago, when the plant was running at its highest record peak, it is still far above normal conditions of a few years ago.

COMMUNITY HONORS ITS OLDEST CITIZEN JUST CENTURY OLD

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Pa., May 9.—May 29 has been selected as the date for the presentation of the gold headed cane to George D. Humes, Cambridge Springs centenarian, for whom a public fund was raised as a personal tribute to his unflagging interest in the community for 100 years.

The opening address will be made by A. F. Moses, chairman, and Albert L. Thomas, of Mearville, will include "Community Cangratulations" in his talk. Carl Greaves, one of the few surviving pupils of Humes' class when he taught school from 1850 to 1856, also will speak.

We are a more honest people. Time was when a woman couid wear a tattered something and say: "Oh, well; it won't show, anyway".

Fecundity makes the common people victorious an some day small cars may overcome locomotives.

WHICH WILL THESE 12 MEN BELIEVE?

"I cannot see how anybody or any twelve red-blooded men can possibly believe the preposterous story that Judd Gray told on the witness stand. I feel confident that every member of the jury is convinced that I told the truth."

—Ruth Snyder.

"Judd Gray is not expecting any clemency at the hands of the jury. Gray has told the truth—and only the truth. His conscience is clean and he is convinced that the jurors, all twelve, will believe every word he has told on the witness stand."

—Attorney Millard for Judd Gray.

Health Conditions Good In State

State Report Shows That General Conditions In Keystone State Are Excellent

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 9. — Exceptionally good health conditions with which the year began in Pennsylvania continued in February, the total death rate again breaking a record by being the lowest ever registered for the month, according to the mortality report made public today, by the State Department of Health in the monthly vital statistics bulletin.

The highest death rate shown by any city during the month was in Pottsville, where it was 27 per 1,000 population per year. Olyphant had the lowest death rate with 3.4.

The hard coal region of the state like the Pittsburgh region showed increased mortality figures during the month as compared with the same period a year ago. However, decreased figures in other parts of the state brought the general death rate down. Among the cities of the hard coal region which showed significant increases over their rates of 1926 for February were Hazleton, Pottstown, Pottsville, Scranton, Shamokin, Wilkes-Barre and Shenandoah.

Automobile accident deaths reached the highest February rate on record with one exception. As February is generally the lowest point of the year for this cause of death, the rate undoubtedly will climb steadily toward its annual October peak, the bulletin pointed out.

Mine accidents accounted for six-ty-six deaths for February, normal amount for this season of the year.

Suicidal death rate reached the highest February point since 1915 —12.6 per 100,000 population per year—and was slightly higher than the January figure. Nevertheless, the rate was not as high as it was in December, 1926, when a 12.8 point was reached.

The majority of diseases took record low during the month.

Occupy New Church At Slippery Rock For First Time

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., May 9.—Sunday was known to local Presbyterians as "Home at Last" day, being the first service in the new church. In the morning, Rev. C. C. Miller, preached, in the evening Mrs. C. N. Moon, of Zellenople, wife of a former pastor, was the speaker.

During the past week the church was the recipient of a most generous and most appreciated present from Mrs. Horace Bard of Butler. Mrs. Bard, was formerly a resident of Slippery Rock and who retains her membership in the church, gave to the congregation for use in the social hall a grand piano. The committee in charge of furnishing the building had about given up hope of securing such an instrument, because of lack of funds. Then came this present. The slogan of their campaign is "Loyalty Lifts the Load."

Cow Tester's Course At State College

A cow tester's training course will be given at the Pennsylvania State College, May 16 to 21, according to announcement from the School of Agriculture of the college.

The demand for cow tester's is growing steadily and more associations will need testers, so the college have decided to hold this short course of training to fit persons for the task.

Here's the Way

To Lighten Cloudy Teeth

That Movies' $100,000 Stars Use and Leading Dentists Urge

Please Accept 10-Day Tube and Make This Remarkable Dental Test

NOW dull, dingy, "off-color" teeth are restored to dazzling whiteness a new way.

Famous movie stars use this way before going on a scene. That's why movie smiles glisten so. Leading dentists urge it widely. For it protects the teeth and firms tender gums.

It works by removing a dingy film that forms on your teeth, absorbing discolorations from food, smoking, etc. A slippery film you can feel with your tongue, that invites germ growth, decayed teeth and gum troubles.

Old-type dentifrices failed to remove it successfully. That's why brushing thus far failed you.

Clear it off. Beneath it are glistening, clear teeth. One's whole appearance thus often changes.

The name is Pepsodent. Let us send you a tube to try. Or buy large tube at your druggist.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

THE TWO-THOUSANDTH COUSIN

"You look very fine, Speedy", chuckled Peter. "It is too bad that there isn't a looking glass in which you could admire your whiskers. They are as fine a set as any I have ever seen. You like yourself, don't you?"

"Yes, I do", admitted Speedy the Squirrel. "And why not? Who would be foolish enough to think anything of me if I did not think a lot of myself? Besides, I really have a great deal to be thankful for. To begin with, I don't have to bury myself in the ground the way Cousin Mole does. Poor fellow! He has gotten so used to darkness that he has lost his eyesight and so accustomed to quiet that if he should remain above ground very long the noise would drive him crazy. Nor do I have to spend half my time in the water as does Beaver. I know my feet would be numbed by the cold if I did. I should hate to live all alone like Cousin Woodchuck, nor would I like to be herded together in a nest so tightly that there would scarcely be whisker room, as in the case in the Mice home."

"Take it all in all, I am pretty well satisfied with my life as it is. I can climb to the tree tops and frolic in the breezes, leap and run, and if that isn't enough for one creature to do, then I don't know what is. Besides I am really the best looking fellow in all the family, and I have about two thousand cousins, you know!"

The boy sat down hurriedly upon the rock.

"Two thousand cousins!" gasped he. I never heard of such a thing. Are you sure?"

"Perfectly", said the gentleman in gray. "You see, there are any number of kinds of Rats and Mice and Rabbits and Squirrels and Chipmunks and Moles and Beavers and Woodchucks and—and—and—Oh, well, I can't think of any more right this minute, but all these and more are relatives of mine."

"But why in the world should you be related to so many folks?" Still the boy could sarcely believe what he had heard.

"Because we all have the same kind of teeth, and it does not matter in what other ways we differ, every single one of the Rodent Race can gnaw out a good living for himself. Some of us live on fruits and nuts, others like a bit of fresh meat now and again, and all of us furnish food for the snakes and the birds of prey and the hateful four-foots that pick on beasts smaller than themselves, but that is the one thing we can do that no others in the animal kingdom can—gnaw our way through life."

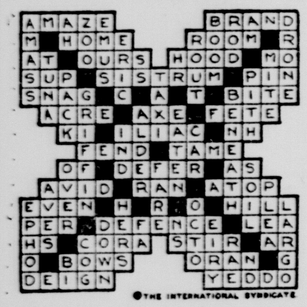

The boy had been so interested in the bewhiskered gentleman in gray that he had almost forgotten about the two friendly enemies. Now he thought he heard a sound, but before he could mention it Squirrel spoke.

"Pst", said he. "Someone is coming. I heard a twig crack. Take care of yourself, Two-Legs, I am off", and away he sped, leaping over the rocks and ground as fleet as the wind itself.

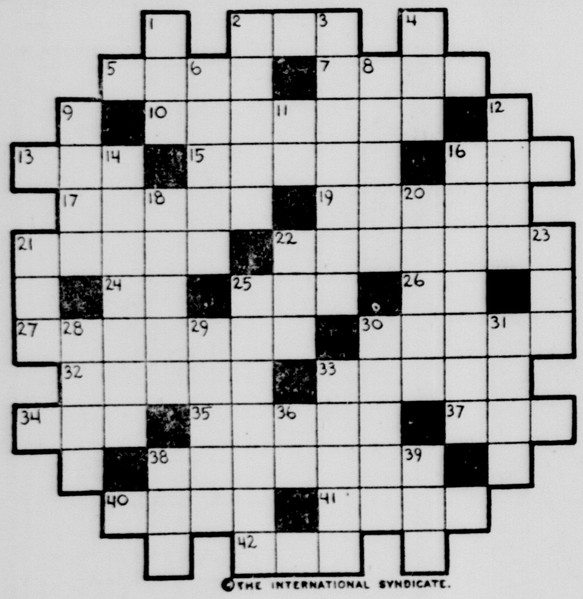

Next: "Not a friend in the World".

NEW CASTLE CLUB DEFEATS CLEVELAND 8 TO 6

General's Double And Brehaney's Single Puts Over Winning Tallies

MEIS PITCHES STEADY GAME

By "BUGS" WALTHER

New Castle's Ohio and Pennsylvania League entry staged an uphill fight here Saturday afternoon at Centennial Field, and defeated the Cleveland Tellings 8 to 6.

Big "Bill" Schardt and Carl "Molly" Meis were the opposing hurlers, and the local heaver earned the decision through a steady exhibition of head-work. Before the first inning was over the visitors had chased three runs over the plate, but Meis tightened up after the first chapter and allowed only four hits thereafter.

New Castle pushed over four runs in the fourth inning. McCullough opened with a scorching triple to deep left field, Bryan was hit by a pitched ball, Thompson singled past third and McCullough tallied, Shaffo flied out to Abel and General pushed a single into right field that scored Bryan and Thompson. Meis was safe on a fielder's choice with General taking third. Swartz lined a hot grounder at Schardt and the Cleveland pitcher deflected the ball but General scored on the play.

The locals forged ahead in the fifth inning when McCullough opened by doubling into deep left field. McCullough was out at second when Abel took a grounder from Bryan and tossed to McKnight who tagged McCullough. Thompson singled and Bryan took third. Shaffo was tossed out by Schardt. General walked and Bryan and Thompson both scored when Meis singled to center field.

Cleveland deadlocked the score in the seventh inning on two singles, Haines batting for Schardt singled to left field. Meis tossed out Abel as Haines advanced to second. Robb scored Haines from second with a Texas leaguer into center field.

General Stars at Bat

General led off in the eighth for New Castle by poking out a double to deep center. Meis was thrown out by Garman. Swartz was safe on a fielder's choice with General safe at third. Brehaney singled into left field and General tallied with the winning run. With Swartz on second and Brehaney on first Weimer was thrown out by McKnight. McCullough drew a walk and filled the bases, Bryan also walked and Swartz was forced home from third with the eighth tally.

Meis bore down on the visitors in the ninth and they were retired in order.

Swarz Fields Well

New Castle tried out a rookie third sacker Saturday by the name of Brehaney and the "kid" got away to a bad start in the first but as the game continued he found his bearings and turned in some fine plays. His single in the eighth inning helped matters along.

Swartz the rookie from Cincinnati was used at first-base and the boy immediately won his way into the hearts of the local fans through his spectacular work around the keystone sack. Shaffo and Thompson late of Ambridge made their local debut Saturday and both boys fitted well in the lineup. Thompson had two clean singles and Shaffo pounced a base-hit in the second frame.

The New Castle outfield could not be improved on Saturday with Weimer, General and McCullough doing some fine work in the pasture lands. Weimer grabbed a couple of flies and General took care of three hard chances without an error. McCullough had one chance and made good. McCullough's best work was at the plate. The local boy batting in the clean-up role came through with a triple, double and single.

Meis the big-right-hander in addition to pitching a fine game fielded his position in top manner and had a single in the fifth inning rally.

HIGH SCHOOL GRID CAPTAIN

CHARLES RICHARDS

Pictured here is Charles "Tippy" Richards, recently elected by the lettermen of senior high as the 1927 football captain. Richards succeeds Jack Christman, former lineman, who has been declared ineligible due to scholastic ruling. Richards has been a star half-back on the Red and Black team for the past three years.

"Tippy" was one of the most consistent scorers on the team last year and his work in the Ellwood City game especially will be recalled by the fans. The newly elected grid captain is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony C. Richards of Agnew street.

Ninth Grade And Shop Boys At Ben Franklin Win Honors In Track

Ninth Grade Boys Capture Track Events In Inter-Class Meet

Shop Boys Walk Away With Honors In Field Events Friday Afternoon

One hundred and fifty-eight boys from four classes participated in the Inter-Class track meet held at the Ben Franklin Junior High Field on Friday afternoon. The meet was one of the biggest of its kind ever attempted at the Junior High School.

The Ninth Grade boys captured honors in the track events with a total of 61½ points, the Shop boys were second with 50 points, the Seventh Grade third with 43 points, and the Eighth Grade fourth with 38 points. The Shop boys took honors in the field events with 43 points, the Eighth Grade team was second with 16 points, and the Ninth Grade team was third with 9 points. The entrants were classed as to weight, so that the field events were open only to the Shop, Eighth and Ninth grades.

The meet was staged under the personal supervision of Coach Leroy M. Norton, who acted as referee and timer. R. J. Dobbs acted as official starter and E. H. Geasa was the finish judge. The mass of student spectators peeled off their coats and collars under the hot spring sun that shone down upon the track men in the meet.

Ribbon badges were awarded the boys, for first, second and third places in each event.

Following are the results:

Ryantown Beats Independent A. A.

Surprises Fans By Taking Coaltown's Place And Victory

After Coaltown took the high dive in the Lawrence county league, Ryantown was requested to play the Independent A. A. Saturday so that Coaltown fans could witness a game and they surprised fans by administering a drubbing to the I. A. A. 12-0.

The Independents used Turca, Marino and Mackey on the mound but could not stop the heavy clouting of the Ryantown team while Winters pitched for the Ryantown aggregation and held the Independents to five hits.

While the game was an exhibition it goes to show that among the teams that may take Coaltown's place in the league Ryantown is considered as one of the first choices if the team cares to enter.

Phi Pi Phi Team Leading League

Close Game In College League Taken By Phis 8 To 7

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 9.—A timely single by Vogel with a man on third and two out in the last of the seventh, gave the Phi Pi Phi fraternity baseball team of Westminster College, the leadership in the inter-fraternity league. The bingle gave the Phi Pi's an 8-7 win over the Delts.

The winners waged an uphill struggle throughout. At one time the Delts led 7-2 only to have their lead dwindled through loose play. In the last of the seventh, the Phi Pi's trailed 7-4. Timely hitting of the slants of Lauder, relief hurler, evened the count and finally decided the contest in favor of the Phi Pi's.

Lewis pitched good ball for the Delts. Wilt, Phi Pi pitcher had trouble finding the platter, walking 10 men.

The victory was the third of the season for the Phi Pis.

League Managers To Meet Tonight

Managers of the Lawrence County and Twilight leagues will meet at 7:30 p. m. tonight at the Sport Goods store. The manager of each team should be present as matters of vital importance will be transacted, according to officials of the circuits

Hillman of Hanover

By Feg Murray

If you happened to be at the last I C 4 A track meet at the Harvard Stadium, you probably noticed a tall, studious-looking gent who adjusted a small movie camera on the concrete railing in front of the first row of seats near the high-jump and shot-putting pits and cranked furiously whenever Bud Hauser, Bob King, or some other champion was performing. The t. and S-1 gent was Harry Hillman, track coach at Dartmouth College, and one of the smartest mentors there is in the business. The movie camera he uses as an aid in coaching the youngsters at Hanover, New Hampshire, in just how the best athletes do their stuff, and it is an example of one of the modern methods that helps make Harry man such a successful coach.

But Harry, though up to the minute in all his ideas of form and execution in things pertaining to track and field, is an old-timer himself, and will show you, if you urge him enough, numerous cups and medals that he himself won on the cinder-path in competitions years ago. Harry Hillman was a famous athlete around 1904, and in the last seventeen years has added considerably to his fame as a producer of other athletes and record-breakers.

The genial and efficient coach at Dartmouth has a three-fold past. He competed in three Olympic games, he won three Olympic championships at St. Louis in 1904, and he holds records in three-legged racing. Besides that, he won four national championships and probably would have won added honors in the 1906 Olympics meeting at Athens had he not been severely injured on the way over when a huge wave banged him against the rail of the ship in which the team was traveling.

Hillman was a low-hurdler and quarter-miler, and for a time held the world's 400-meter record. His famous indoor 600-yard races with John Taylor, Mel Sheppard, and Burt Parsons will always be remembered by those old-timers lucky enough to have witnessed them. Since going to Dartmouth to coach in 1909, Harry has developed such famous athletes as Earl Thomson, Marc Wright, Harry Worthington, Fat Spears, Laddie Myers, LeRoy Brown, and his present hurdling prodigy, Monte Wells.

Feg Murray Says:—

The sports writers who comment so often on the fact that Melvin Ott of the Giants is 18 years old; Helen Jacobs, the tennis star, only 17; and so forth, seem to overlook the fact that for fifty-two years now the Kentucky Derby has been won by a three-year old!

Croton Bows In League Contest

Wampum Gets To Jacimo For 13 Hits And Takes 14-3 Tilt

Wampum's stickers went into action in the first game of the season, and as a result Jacimo, hurler for Croton, was touched for 13 hits, while Grinnen held Croton to eight hits. Wampum won at Marshall field, 14 to 3.

Fitzgerald poled a home run.

Up to the end of the fourth inning Croton had played a good game, but in this session nine runs crossed the plate and they had no chance to recover from the effects of Wampum's clouting.

Coaltown Quits County League

Players Refuse To Practice And Franchise Is Thrown Up

The Lawrence County league got away to an abbreviated start Saturday afternoon the Neshannocks tossing up their franchise before the season started.

Manager Joe Travers claims that the players did not report as ordered prior to Saturday and for that reason he did not wish to manage the team.

Ollie Earl also of Coaltown, informed league officials of the Neshannocks intention to drop and Ryantown was requested to appear at Coaltown.

They accommodated the league officials and surprised fans by beating the Independent A. A. Tonight a successor to the "Nocks" will be named.

Bessemer sprung a surprise by taking over Elwood City 7 to 5, the P. R. R. defeated Energy 13 to 1 and Wampum won hands down 14 to 3 over Croton.

Tonight team managers of the Lawrence county and Twilight leagues will meet at the Sport Goods store at 7:30 p. m. to arrange for a team to take the "Nocks" place.

Among the aggregations considered are Ryantown and Edenburg. The latter is anxious to climb into the loop while Ryantown's victory in an exhibition game Saturday gives them an even break.

Homestead Grays Here Wednesday

Famous Colored Team To Appear At Centennial Field At 6:15 O'clock

The Homestead Grays make their first appearance of the season against the New Castle O. and P. league club on Wednesday evening May 11 at Centennial field and this popular attraction is certain to play before a large assemblage of fans.

The New Castle team was one of the few outfits which scored a victory over the Grays last season and there is no reason why the locals should not be able to do so again.

The Grays lost only 13 games last season and played ten ties. They scored 143 victories, the greatest total of wins ever scored by a baseball club in a season. In the last four years the Grays have a total of 486 victories to their credit against 90 defeats, so fans can realize from the excellent record that the Homestead Grays are an unique attraction.

This has been proven time and again by the large crowds which have seen them play in New Castle.

Church League To Open Season With Two Games Tonight

The opening of the New Castle church baseball league will take place tonight. The games will start at 6:15 o'clock daylight savings time.

On Colonial field the Epworth team will clash with the Central Christians, and at the Lehigh field the Third U. P. boys will hook-up with the First Baptists.

There are eight fast teams in the Church loop this year as follows:—Central Presbyterians, First Baptist, First Christian, Croton M. E., First Methodist, Third U. P., Epworth M. E., and Central Christians. Games in the league will be played on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of each week. There will be two games each night.

Following is the schedule for this week:—Tuesday May 10—Central Presbyterians vs. First Christians at Colonial field; Croton M. E. vs. First Methodist at Lehigh field. Thursday May 12—Epworth vs. Third U. P. at Colonial field; and Central Christians vs. Croton M. E. at Lehigh field. Friday, May 13—First Christians vs. First Methodist and First Baptist vs. Central Presbyterian.

AMATEUR NOTES

The West Side Midgets defeated the East Side Midgets by a score of 19 to 4, in a game played on Saturday morning on the Gaston Park field. Tyler and Fraley were the opposing pitchers.

The Atlantic Refining Midgets claim a forfeit game from the Jefferson Street Midgets, for their failure to show up at the B. & O. grounds for a scheduled game on Saturday morning. The game was set for 9:30 o'clock and after waiting an hour the Refining boys claimed a victory at 9 to 0. The Atlantic Midgets would like to arrange games with all fast midget teams in the city or county.

A. D. Stone of the Leesburg team would like to arrange a double-header for his team Memorial Day. Call Leesburg and ask for Stone any time during the day. The Leesburg team can assure any team of a first class game.

The St. Philips and St. James team is organizing for the baseball season and the following boys are asked to report at 7:00 o'clock on Tuesday night behind the church, also any others desiring a tryout with the team:—Z. Dudek, J. Golba, F. Noga, M. Golba, F. Germack, B. Zawacki, S. Mackiewicz, J. Borch, S. Gorski, J. Kurdupski, F. Kurdupski.

Rolled Stocking Derby Favorite

Trial Heats At Churchmill Downs Show Rolled Stocking As Favorite

(International News Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 9.—The western half of America's Kentucky Derby colony today took a glance over the form chart of the "Derby trial" race at historic Churchill Downs Saturday afternoon, and took a new leage on life. It is said that Rolled Stocking won from Osmand going away over a mile route by three lengths, with Earle Sande astride the winter book favorite for the big classic.

The race, over the mile route, run in 1:38 3-5 further demonstrated the fact that the eastern representatives will have to look to their laurels if they are to take the blue ribbon honors back with them after the running of the $65,000 stake. The race of Rolled Stocking was extremely gratifying to the many admirers of the two-year-old "hard luck" horse of 1926.

The Churchill track contingent today was taking a keen advance interest in the running of the Preakness at Pimlico, when a representative field of derby candidates will face the barrier in the Rich Old stake. Buddy Bauer, E. R. Bradley's good colt, is the west's only representative. Such fillies as Fair Star and Pandera, and colts as Scapa Flow, Saxon, Black Panther, Justice F. Hopagan and Bostonian will surely make it a race worth going miles to see. Horsemen here were inclined to favor the chances of Scapa Flow for the Preakness and even looking favorably toward this great son of Man O' War to uphold the honors of the east in the derby.

North Highland Takes Victory

The North Highland boys defeated the South Side Pirates 15 to 5, in a game played on Saturday afternoon at the Clifton Flats Field.

Sargeant on the mound for the Highland team allowed but six hits and fanned fifteen batters. Owens on the hill for the Pirates was not so effective and permitted eighteen safe blows.

B. Houston and D. Altman had home runs.

President Clarence C. Little of the University of Michigan is one of the best informed college presidents in the United States on the subject of college athletics.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Whatever the heavyweight and light heavyweight situation may have been lately it has been unaltered by the recent meeting of Young Stribling and Tommy Loughran. If there is a slight alteration it is due to the elimination of the two maulers mentioned from the picture.

Stribling is through as a contender for any fistic crown. The bout against Loughran, reputed a fast and shifty fighter, was to be Stribling's final chance to prove his right to consideration in any division above the bantamweight. Loughran won the fight. Not because he was good but because Stribling was so rotten. And, Loughran's margin of victory, against Stribling's showing wasn't great enough to demand any attention.

If Loughran gets a bout with Jack Delaney, light heavy king, it will be because there is no other material available. Delaney will make a monkey out of Loughran—unless the former elects to knock his can off the first round.

* * *

Art Devlin, former Giant third baseman and now on the coaching staff of the Boston Braves, is sponsor for the statement that:

"What baseball needs most is more good fist fights."

Hurrah for Arthur!

Not that we want actual games of fisticuffs mixed with the regulation nine innings. But he expresses very tersely our feeling that baseball has degenerated too much toward a parlor pastime.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 9.—Buying of the better grade of dividend industrial and railroad stocks was stimulated today by the Treasury announcement of the retirement of the Second Liberty Loan 4¼ per cent bonds on a basis forecasting easier money market conditions over the next six months.
All of the dividend rails advanced to higher price levels, while the prime industrials which have been very much in the limelight of late sold in good volume at a higher range of prices. Outstanding Liberty and Treasury bonds sold up from a small fraction to nearly half a point in active trading. Call money renewed at 4 per cent, with offerings in good supply.
Outside of the speculative features of this period, the competitive buying of the New York City Gas Company stocks absorbed the interest of the market in general. Brooklyn Union Gas moved up to a new high of 107½, completing a gain of about 15 points, on competitive buying attributed to the Consolidated Gas interests. Hudson Motors sold above 81 in the leadership of the motor shares, accompanied by reports of record-breaking production and a heavy influx of new orders.
Oil stocks and coppers moved downward comparatively easily as soon as selling pressure was applied.

FINAL PLEAS IN SNYDER MURDER TRIAL BEING MADE

present the picture of this crime to you."
"I am pleading with you before my God to render justice in this case" said Millard, his voice rrising. "I am pelading as I would for my own son, for I believe in Judd Gray."

Recounts Childhood.

"Millard then told the story of Gray's childhood, spent in a "wonderful home" where a lovely mother watched over him and gave him moral and religious training. He had a fair success in school and was a success in business. He met the woman who was to be his wife and a child was born to them .
"Judd Gray's life was a happy one from the cradle up to 1925—not a blemish, not a stain" declared Millard.
"And then, suddenly in June, 1925, a sinister, fascinating woman came across his path.'
Millard said it was "Cruelly pathetic" that Judd Gray ever met Mrs. Snyder. Gray hung his head.
Mrs. Snyder turned her blue-green eyes on Millard and an expression of resentment flashed across her face. She sat by her counsel's table attired all in black a defiant expression on her set countenance.
"She was like a poisonous serpent," cried Millard.
"That woman, that serpent," cried the tall, gray-haired Millard, "had a never-dying desire to get rid of her husband, Albert Snyder."
The blue-green eyes of the blonde, black-garbed Mrs. Snyder flashed at Millard.

Woman Abnormal

"Why, gentlemen, Judd Gray couldn't escape from this poisonous serpent," he continued.
"I want to say here that this woman was abnormal.
"Just as a piece of steel jumps and clings to a magnet, so Judd Gray changed from an intelligent, attractive force, a man with character, to his present state.
"She held him tight. I must show you, gentlemen, that this woman was abnormal, possessed of an abnormal, consuming, all-absorbing sexual passion and lust, which seemingly was never satisfied. It is not for me to judge how far that flaming physical self, warped, distorted and changed her moral side. I leave that for a higher power.
"But the unfortunate and pathetic part of it all is that through excessive indulgence to satisfy that burning desire and that fire, this poor victim Gray was sapped of his strength and his vitality. It was the flame which was not only consuming her, but also forcing its terrible wrath on this man.
"The inevitable result followed. You have seen something of human life and you know the inevitable result."
Gray listened intently, his head bowed.
Millard told the jury if they wanted to see a real picture of "this unfortunate Ruth Snyder," he would read a letter that had been introduced in evidence. He read it:
"Would that I could get lit and and put out this blaze which is so much bother to me."
Millard paused. Then, solemnly: "Think, gentlemen, of her writing that to Judd Gray. She used her body to ensnare him."
She brought up the plans to kill her husband when whiskey was getting the better of Gray," said Millard.
"She got him more and more in her power. She knew that by the sapping of vitality and the constant resort to drink she could make any suggestion and get him to do most anything for her.
"What a cold, calculating, remorseless, conscienceless, inhuman planning of a human fiend! She finally succeeded.
Millard reminded the jury that Gray got to the Snyder home at about midnight the night of the murder and that, waiting for him, under a pillow in Mrs. Snyder's mother's room was a sashweight, pliers and a four ounce bottle of whiskey.
"Remember that bottle," said Millard.
Nearby was another quart of whiskey, said Millard.
Mrs. Snyder knew Judd would drink.
"He drank from the bottle without hesitation and it made him dizzy," explained Millard. "He sat on the floor. What was in that bottle? I'll tell you what I think. I think the quart bottle counteracted the effect of the poison in the small bottle."
Attorney Edgar F. Hazleton, of Mrs. Snyder's counsel, leaped to his feet with an objection but was overruled.
Millard then reviewed the actual death scene. Mrs. Snyder shook her head negatively over various accusations by Millard. When he accused her of actually hitting her husband with the sashweight she became excited.

Plea For Mrs. Snyder

COURTHOUSE, LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., May 9.—Dana Wallace, dynamic attorney for Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, on trial jointly with Henry Judd Gray, for the murder of the woman's husband, began a dramatic plea to the jury at 11:45 this morning for clemency for the blonde woman defendant.
"Gentlemen of the jury," said Wallace in a strong, incisive voice, "I want to say at the outset in no uncertain terms that you do not know that this is the case of Henry Judd Gray and the people of the State of New York against Ruth Snyder and nothing else. She is sandwiched in between two prosecutors."
Wallace meant "The defendant Gray," as well as the district attorney, by the term "two prosecutors."
Waving his spectacles and pointing at Gray, Wallace shouted:
"In my twenty-six years of practice in the criminal legal field, this is the most despicable creature (Gray) that ever walked on God's earth.
"In the case of this man, Gray, there has been an absolute attempt to fool you from beginning to end. In all my practice, I have never known what it was to be in a joint trial where the defendants' cases were diametrically opposed.
"Nothing can convince me but that this woman has been put in one of the most unfair positions ever known in an American court of justice."

May Reach Jury Today

Courthouse, Long Island City, N. Y., May 9.—Summations today by three brilliant lawyers, the judge's instructions and then—late this afternoon—the case of Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, jointly accused of the brutal murder of Albert Snyder, art editor of Motor Boating, will be given to the jury.
Mrs. Snyder and Gray may know their fate by midnight but perhaps not until tomorrow. The blonde defendant is confident the jury will not send her to the chair. Gray, however, expects to "burn" but adds that he is not afraid of death.
Each of the lawyers, in summing up, will address the jury for two hours, or less. Justice Townsend Scudder will then instruct the jury, taking about an hour, after which the jury will retire for their deliberations.

Buffalo Man Faces Trial For Death Of Girl

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., May 9.—Karl Bechtel, Buffalo battery salesman, held for the murder of Virginia Gibney, chorus girl, in an Erie hotel on March 28, went on trial here today.
Bechtel has been at liberty in bond since the preliminary hearing early in April. His attorneys attempted to have the case postponed until the September term of court, but the court directed that the case be tried at once.
When court adjourned at noon until Monday only three jurors had been chosen. They were Mrs. Lottie Sprowls, Frank Van Cise and Mrs. Grace L. Benedict.
An unusual feature of the case is that although Bechtel was exonerated by the coroner, the district attorney insisted that he be tried for murder because of his alleged admission that he struck the girl shortly before she died.

Arrangements are being made for a big international sports meeting under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. in Copenhagen next July. Three days are to be devoted to track and field athletics in the Copenhagen Stadium, to be followed by two days of association football in the Sports Park. The program also provides to participate in the meeting. Should it prove a success an effort will be made to repeat the venture every four years.
The Gold Cup regatta, the most famous of American motor-boat contests, will be held this year at Greenwich, Conn., under the auspices of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club

Who Held Guns That Killed Terror of Bad Men? State Puts Wife on Trial

Luther Bishop, terror of the bad men of Oklahoma, was shot to death in his bed at Home. Neighbors tell of an automobile leaving the scene immediately after the shooting, but circumstantial evidence has involved his wife, who is now on trial in Oklahoma City. Her son Leo (right), is an important witness.

OKLAHOMA CITY (I-I-N Special).—Two guns—his own—blazed forth death at Luther Bishop, State detective and probably the most feared peace officer in Oklahoma.
The State of Oklahoma, in court here, is attempting to prove that the hand of Bishop's wife held the revolvers and not those of a revenge-seeking criminal.
The crime was as mysterious as it was daring. Bishop feared the men with which he had to deal, almost as much they feared him. He slept with doors and windows locked.
At two o'clock on the morning of December 5, 1926, seven shots rang out. His wife, according as an automobile sped away immediately after the shooting; one woman told of her story, awoke and ran to his room. She sent her son, Leo, who had been his father's closest friend, to a neighbor for a doctor. When the doctor arrived Bishop was dead.
A Coroner's Jury assembled. Evidence was conflicting. Neighbors told hearing the grinding of gears on the ground outside.
Mrs. Bishop was arrested, only to be set free. Governor M. E. Trapp ordered an investigation, and a few days later Mrs. Bishop was rearrested.
She admitted that her relations with Bishop were not as close as they might be, but she insisted that she loved him, and loves him in death.
"Why should I think of committing a crime like this when I thought so much of my boy?" she asked. "That's what hurts. They can accuse me if they will, but do you think that I would do a thing like this to the shame of the baby I love so much?"
Nevertheless, the State does, and the woman is now on trial for murder.

WOMEN TRAPPED IN STORE CRASH

CHICAGO, May 9.—Between 35 and 50 women entombed today when a four story general store building suddenly collapsed during a bargain-day rush.
Cries of the injured filled the air as police, firemen and volunteers attacked the ruins.
The collapse, probably caused by excavating operations in an adjoining lot, came without warning. Supports placed against the store to hold it up suddenly gave way and the structure tumbled into the hole.
Everyone in the store at the time was carried into the hole, it was reported.
Miss Mae Ginnis, the first person rescued, was removed to a hospital suffering from internal injuries.

Art Collector Gets Valuable Picture

ST. LOUIS, May 9.—Warner S. McCall, St. Louis art collector, has acquired a gallery picture of the Holy Family, painted by Correggio in 1533, which was discovered about a month ago in the loft of a New England farmhouse, where it had been hidden for half a century. The painting has been appraised at $145,000.

SMARTEST STYLES: WHAT NOTABLES ARE WEARING

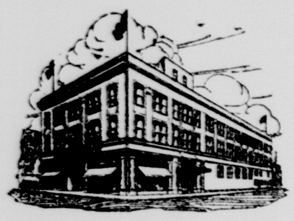

The trend of the mode in street costumes for late Spring is reflected in these photos, taken on Park avenue, New York, and showing notables in the so-called smart set: (1) Miss Helen F. Clark, (2) Miss Edith Cummings, (3) Miss Hazel Nichols, (4) Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney
